NEW ORLEANS.

Wind and Rain Storm—Portion of the City Inundated.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 3.—A storm of wind and rain commenced here on Thursday night and has raged ever since with but short intervals, and east winds have backed the water of Lake Ponchartrain through the Canal and swamps until the whole rear of the city is inundated with an unbroken sheet of water from Claiborne street to the Lake. The water is pouring over the banks of the Canal and is still rising. The Ponchartrain Railroad and several street railroads have been obliged to stop running, the tracks being overflowed. The rains have been heavy and general throughout the State for the past week.

The wind is very high this evening and increasing. There are three steamers between here and Galveston over due. Several New York steamers are due, and there are serious apprehensions for their safety.

The telegraph operator at Fort Pike is supposed to have been drowned.

The water in the rear of the city is still rising. The people are deserting their houses in that part of the city and coming towards the river.

Edward Ware, General Ticket Agent of the New Orleans, Jackson and Great Northern Railroad, attempted to commit suicide this morning by shooting himself in the head. The wound is serious.

ST. LOUIS.

General Grant's Visit--Democratic Disarrangement---State Fair---Steamboat Accident.

All the candidates on the Democratic Convention ticket, nominated Thursday, have resigned, and the delegates to the nominating Convention have been called to meet again next Monday to make a new ticket.

The city is filling up with visitors to the Fair, which will open Monday. All the different departments are overrun and the stock will outnumber more than two to one the entries at any previous Fair. The attendance is expected to be unprecedented in the history of Fairs.

The steamer George D. Palmer, of the Northwestern Union Packet Line, with a barge in tow, struck the bridge at Quincy to-day and sunk. The boat and barge were heavily laden and will probably be a total loss.

Cricket Match at Philadelphia.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

PHILADELPHIA, October 3.—The international cricket match between All England Eleven and American Twenty-two of Philadelphia was started to-day. The Americans won the toss and sent the Eleven to the field. At two o'clock the first man appeared at the bat, and the game was continued with several interruptions by rain until five o'clock, when the stumps were drawn for the day. At that time there were thirteen wickets down for fifty-five runs. The best stand made was by Cadwalder and Morgan. The former by safe and steady play secured fifteen and the latter nine. Freeman's bowling was very effective. The play will be resumed Monday morning.

Schuyler Colfax Serenaded.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 4.—Speaker Colfax is in this city spending a few days. He was serenaded last night at the residence of T. P. Hough by the Fighting Boys in Blue and a large assemblage of citizens. In response he spoke briefly but very encouragingly of the prospects of the success of the Republican cause in October and November. He said the political horizon never looked brighter. He will speak here to-morrow night.

CAMBRIA.

Immense Republican Demonstration at Johnstown—Torch-light Procession—Eloquent Addresses by Mahlon Chance, of Ohio, and Lewis Barker, of Maine.

Special Dispatch to the Pittsburgh Gazette.

JOHNSTOWN, PA., Oct. 3, 1868.

By great odds the largest and most enthusiastic political demonstration of the campaign in Cambrta county came off in this place this afternoon and evening. In the afternoon a large meeting, composed principally of farmers and country people, was organized on our public square, which was addressed in a most eloquent and forcible speech by Hon. Mahlon Chance, of Ohio. In the evening a torch-light procession composed of the original Grant and Colfax Club of Johnstown, the Welsh Club recently organized, and the Tanners' Club, of Ebensburg, led by ex-Congressman A. A. Barker, numbering one thousand persons in line, paraded the principal streets of the town, and halted on the public square, where a perfect outpouring of the people of our growing city awaited their arrival. Order being secured, the meeting was organized by electing Hon. Mr. Barker President, who introduced his namesake, Hon. Lewis Barker,. of Maine, who proceeded to address the vast assembly in the most eloquent and unanswerable arraignment of the Hampton and Forrest Democracy yet addressed to a Cambria county audience.

After he had closed Mr. Chance was again called out, and, excusing himself on account of his broken voice, addressed a few stirring sentences to the audience, and closed the evening's entertainment by proposing cheers for the loyal ladies in attendance, the Boys in Blue, our candidate for Congress, Hon. D. J. MORRELL, and for GRANT and COLFAX and GLORY, all of which were responded to with a will, when the meeting dispersed.

Altogether the meeting was the most glorious of the campaign, and sent dismay into the camp of the enemy and cheered up wonderfully the buoyant spirits of the Republican phalanx. J. M. B.

NEW YORK CITY.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, October 3, 1868.

The jury in the case of Doran, charged with murdering Helen Hicks, in West Chester, rendered a verdict of not guilty. He was immediately arrested on a charge of assault with intent to kill, but several persons volunteered bail, which was accepted. Martin, his alleged accomplice, was then released, and they returned to their headquarters at Fort Schuyler, being soldiers belonging to the garrison there.

Col. Pierson, President of the Brooklyn Horse Railway, was arrested to-day on a charge of employing disabled horses on his cars.

The deaths for the week were four hundred and sixty-two.

Large numbers of clergymen and laymen have arrived here to take part in the General Convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church next week.

It is reported on Wall street to-day that the opposition steamship line to California has been withdrawn, but there is no confirmation of the report.

An Assembly Convention of Republicans in Brooklyn balloted all last night for a candidate, and adjourned to breakfast this morning, and will probably ballot all night to-night.

The case of one Mary Gill against Gen. Spinola for assault was postponed. It will probably be hushed up, as some scandalous developments are expected.

A lottery policy dealer was held for trial to-day on a charge of non-payment of revenue tax. Two others were discharged.

Anton Schmitz, hotel keeper, was arrested on a charge of robbing Christian Koch, a brewer, of Pittsburgh, in this city, of $6,500. He has been held in $10,000 bail for trial. The defense alleges that the hotel safe was broken open, and that Schmitz himself lost over $10,000, besides the property of Koch.

One of the greatest musical excitements ever known here is the opening of the Theatre Francaise, under the direction of Mr. Grau. Fabulous prices are paid for seats. Speculators have succeeded in the old game, and ten dollars is the regular price for good seats for Monday night.

D. O'Sullivan, editor of the Irish People, has commenced a suit against Brick Pomeroy, laying his damages at $25,000, for libel in stating in the Democrat that he had been bribed or bought to change the politics of his paper.

PHILADELPHIA.

The Boys in Blue Convention—Pittsburgh Delegation En Route—Their Reception—The Great Day.

Correspondence Pittsburgh Gazette.

PHILADELPHIA, October 3, 1868.

EN ROUTE.

Nine cars full of us left on the excursion train on Wednesday afternoon, and I doubt if there ever was a more loyal crowd went over the great Pennsylvania Railroad. A vote taken on the cars revealed the astounding fact that out of three hundred and seventy voters there was but one for Seymour and Blair. This did not hinder the boys from having a good time, however, and there never was a jollier journey made. As the heavy train rolled out of the city every window and every workshop was crowded with men and women and little boys who cheered and waved handkerchiefs, and the windows of our train were not large enough to let out all the arms that wanted to wave in return. The unfortunate little boy out near the fair grounds who shouted for Seymour as we passed, may have furnished an item for Thursday's GAZETTE, for he was undergoing a vigorous course of "smash" when last seen by your correspondent. Further on all along the road, while daylight lasted, crowds were gathered whose hearty cheers added enthusiasm to the most enthusiastic political gathering that ever took to itself wheels and rolled away. Beyond Turtle Creek a procession with stars and stripes, and drums and fifes, was formed in line, facing the train, and cheered lustily as we passed by; further on, here and there, bonfires were lighted and altogether things were cheering.

At Conemaugh just as the train was moving on a throng of three Democratic Fenians saw fit to hurrah for Seymour and Blair. Two Republican Irishmen hurled back in their teeth the war cry of their party, and a battle seemed imminent as we fled out of sight, but as the odds were two to three we wished sincerely that we were well enough versed in the Post's arithmetic to make our two a triumphant hundred.

In the sleeping car everything went delightfully; euchre and whist were decidedly popular, and little impromptu banquets, consisting of cold collations, were not unfrequent, and we doubt if the party who, on the rear platform of the last car, ever will forget how they emulated General Marion and his men in the consumption of sweet potatoes. A glee club on board came into the last car and serenaded General Negley, Colonel Fisher and Tom. Floyd, Esq., who were in one state-room; the latter gentleman replied with a neat speech, which was so enthusiastically received that he was forced to repeat it later in the evening in another car.

We passed Cresson without stopping, but the old place looked very lonely and unlike itself.

I should like to know if any of those men who went down the mountain from the tunnel to Altoona will ever forget the magnificence of that night! The scenery, so well known, was unusually fine under the rays of the almost full moon, and the fresh air of the mountain, mingled with the scent of the tobacco, made an aroma enticing enough to have elicited envy from Epicurus himself. Going round the "horse shoe" we in the rear cheered those in the front car as we saw them ahead of us on the curve. The twenty minutes halt at Altoona was well used, some took supper while others only captured hot coffee or whisky toddy, and after the members of the band had regaled themselves they stood out upon the broad platform and played a waltz so temptingly that various couples of enthusiastic terpsichoreans were unable to resist it, and an impromptu hop was instantly organized, the only drawback to which was the entire dearth of the fairer portion of humanity.

After Altoona, bed was considered the best place, and all who possessed berths, turned in. We in our car were unfortunate enough to possess a facetious gentleman, whose gray hairs promised more discretion than they covered. This humorous person amused himself by waiting until Morpheus had about taken possession of his fellow-passengers, and then called out "Passengers for Philadelphia change cars!" a cry which sounded unpleasantly significant to sleepy humanity. This joke was considered so excellent by the perpetrator that he repeated it once, much to the satisfaction of himself alone. He didn't repeat it again.

THE RECEPTION.

On Thursday morning at 7:20 we arrived at West Philadelphia, where our delegation was received and escorted to National Hall, where an excellent breakfast, with hot coffee, was served out, and followed by highly appreciated cigars.

Many members of the Pittsburgh delegations are stopping at the houses of friends, but the majority bivouacs in the beautiful Horticultural Hall.

During Thursday everybody amused himself as he pleased. In the evening Mayor M'Michael made a speech of welcome to the crowds in Independence Square, and Generals Kilpatrick, Burnsides, Farnsworth, Barnum, Thayer, Sickles, Torbert, Hawley, King, Sweitzer, Carrington, Jardin and others, addressed the crowd from three handsomely decorated stands. Later in the evening, at about half-past ten o'clock, an enormous throng gathered about the Union League House, on Broad street, where Dodworth's inimitable New York band, and Beck's band of Philadelphia, serenaded the distinguished strangers in the Club House. After loud calls, ex-Gov. Curtin, Gen. Kilpatrick and ex-Governor Pierepoint, appeared and spoke briefly, and then the tired thousands of strangers melted from crowds to individuals, and went to bed.

THE GREAT DAY.

A better day for a long march could scarcely have been picked out; the streets were dry, the air cool and the sky delicately clouded over; the throng was immense; no one can imagine it unless they saw Pittsburgh during the great convention a week ago; by deducting the umbrellas and adding about as many more people an estimate can be found. The line of the day-light procession was not so long as our procession, but it was composed mostly of old soldiers and sailors on foot, the cavalry being mostly dismounted, but still there were probably from ten to fifteen thousand voters in line, and it took them exactly one hour quick marching to pass the window in which your correspondent had found a place. Of all the Boys in Blue in the parade none looked better than ours from Allegheny county, headed by Col. George F. Morgan on his fiery charger! And no political organization in the whole turn out looked, marched or behaved better than the Pittsburgh delegation of Tanners and Grant Clubs; familiar faces peered out all along the line, and all looked enthusiastic and hopeful.

We noticed in the line the familiar faces of many a world renowned man. Sickles and Burnsides, Geary, Kilpatrick, Sweitzer, Curtin and many others were there, and were cheered to the very echo as they passed by the crowd. The decorations along the line of the procession were georgeously brilliant, not so general as we have them in Pittsburgh, because loyalty is not so much of an epidemic here as it is at home, but in brilliancy we cannot hold a candle to them. Many of the most elegant dwellings upon Walnut, Spruce and West Chestnut streets were most tastefully decorated. I have seen nothing finer than some of the houses decked as they were with statuary, paintings, brilliant affghans and red, white and blue bunting and silk. The newspaper offices, Bailey & Co's and Caldwell's palatial jewelry stores, and the Union League House were the most brilliantly decorated buildings along the route.

DEMONSTRATION IN WASHINGTON.

Grand Mass Convention—10,000 of the Loyal Masses in Council—Procession Four Miles Long—Meeting in the Fair Ground—Torch-light Procession—Mass Meeting at the Court House.

The hearts of the Republicans of Washington county were made glad on Friday by the greatest outpouring of the loyal masses ever witnessed in that vicinity.

In accordance with a call of the Republican State Central Committee, a Mass Convention was held in the town of Washington, on Friday, and such a mass of loyal people as responded to that call have not assembled in that old town for many a year.

At sunrise Friday morning a national salute of thirty-eight guns was fired, at the sound of which every Republican within hearing awoke and began preparations for the day. The clouds which, on the previous evening, with threatening aspect draped the horizon in black, giving promise of a wet and dreary day, had vanished, and the morning sun rose clear and brilliant above the towering heights of the Alleghenies in the east, promising a day worthy of the cause, which was hailed with delight and caused many an earnest heart to throb with renewed pleasure at the brightening prospect.

The Republicans in town at once began to decorate their houses, and in a short time the "starry flag of the free" was floating from every Republican house in the town. Arches and wreaths of evergreen, tastefully ornamented with flowers, banners and portraits of our gallant leaders, Grant and Colfax, were thrown across the street at various places, and large flags were suspended over Main street, at Smith's corner, the office of the Reporter, and several other places. In front of the Court House, suspended from the verandah, was a large banner, upon which was enscribed the one hundred battles in which Grant had participated, commencing with the battle of Rosaca de la Palma, on the 9th of May, '46, down to the last battle of the great rebellion. Many private houses were tastefully decorated, and the town presented a beautiful appearance.

At eight o'clock the people from the surrounding country began to assemble, and from that time until eleven o'clock, at which time the procession moved, there was a continual stream of wagons, carriages, men and women on horseback and on foot, pouring into the town on every street.

The delegations from the several townships formed under the direction of the Chief Marshal, H. J. Vankirk, Esq., upon the several streets intersecting Main street at the north-end of the town, and precisely at eleven o'clock moved, headed by the Waynesburg brass band, down Main street to the Fair Ground, at the south-end of town.

The procession, composed of footmen, wagons, carriages, men and ladies on horse back, in carriages, &c., was over four miles in length, and required over one hour and a half to pass a given point. The number in line was variously estimated at from four to ten thousand, but by actual count numbered four thousand five hundred and ninety-two.

MEETING AT THE FAIR GROUND.

The several delegations were dismissed on arriving at the Fair Ground, and the people, or as many of them as there was room far, assembled within the enclosure, when a meeting was organized by calling Joseph B. Welsh to the chair, assisted by a Vice President and Secretary from each township.

Mr. Welsh, on taking the chair, thanked the meeting for the honor conferred upon him, and in a neat address introduced Hon. Mahlon Chance, of Ohio, who spoke to the vast assemblage for over two hours, making a forcible and telling argument in favor of justice, right and republicanism, which he held were inseparable. Notwithstanding Mr. Chance has a powerful voice, as all who have heard him can fully testify, so large was the crowd that it was utterly impossible for all to hear, and another meeting was organized at a stand on the opposite side of the enclosure, where Hon. Lewis Barker, of Maine, was prevailed upon to talk for a few minutes, after which Mr. J. B. Donnelly, candidate for Congress, was called upon and made an able and eloquent address. When the speakers concluded, the President of the meeting announced that there would be a torchlight procession, to be followed by a meeting at the Court House, in the evening, at which Mr. Barker, of Maine, would speak, after which the meeting adjourned.

THE TORCHLIGHT PROCESSION.

At half-past seven o'clock in the evening the various clubs of the county, equipped with caps, capes and torches, formed on Main street, with the right resting on Court House Square, after which they moved through the principal streets, the houses on which were brilliantly illuminated and gaily decorated with flags, Chinese lanterns, evergreens, &c., and returning to the Court House the procession was dismissed.

MEETING IN THE COURT HOUSE.

As soon as the procession had formed and had started to move we repaired to the Court room, which we found filled with ladies and gentlemen to its utmost capacity. The meeting was called to order by William McKeenan, Esq., on whose motion Hon. J. R. Kelly was called to the Chair. Mr. Kelly in a brief address thanked the meeting for the honor conferred upon him, and introduced Hon. Lewis Barker of Maine, who spoke for nearly two hours in his eloquent and forcible style.

MEETING ON THE STREET.

Owing to the vast number of persons present when the torchlight procession had been dismissed, not one-fourth of whom could find standing room in the Court House, it was deemed expedient to organize a meeting outside. The meeting was called to order by J. W. McWilliams, Esq., of the Reporter, on whose motion Alex. Murdock, Esq., was called to preside.

The meeting was then ably addressed by John Ewing, Esq., and Hon. George V. Lawrence.

CONCLUSION.

The convention was one of the most orderly ever held in the county, and admitted by the leading Democrats to be a complete success in every respect. It doubtless was a great benefit to the cause and many of the Republicans who have heretofore claimed but three hundred majority at the approaching election, now feel confident of six hundred.

—The New York papers expose the latest lottery swindle carried on under the name of the Soldiers' Orphan Institute, by a firm styling themseles "Read & Co., 6 Clinton Hall." This firm developed no original rascality, being content to operate in the usual style.

MEMPHIS, October 3.—Democratic papers this morning assert that one thousand stand of arms and ammunition have been shipped by the Loyal Leagues of Missouri on the Bell of Memphis for the negroes of this city and Little Rock, Arkansas.

Bishop Quintard, of the Protestant Episcopal Church, has introduced ritualism in his diocese.

A young man named O'Brien was shot and killed by Noah Duncan, at Charleston, Mississippi, Thursday night. O'Brien was guarding Duncan who had been arrested for burglary, and in an unguarded moment Duncan seized his gun and shot him. The citizens picketed the roads and on the next day discovered Duncan trying to escape. Refusing to surrender they fired upon him, inflicting wounds which are believed to be mortal. It was with difficulty that the citizens were restrained from lynching him, as O'Brien was universally beloved and respected.

The Alabama Legislature.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

MONTGOMERY, Oct. 3.—On Friday the House turned out a Democrat and admitted a Republican to his seat. The Republican was a candidate in Jones county and claimed the seat from that county. The Democrat was from Fayette county. The Legislature abolished Jones county and then the Republican claimed his seat from Fayette county. The Committee reported the Democrat was elected by over 700 majority and that his contestant was not a candidate against him at all.

The election bill is still under discussion.

Governor Smith is expected to-night. The registry bill, it is thought, will receive his signature, but it is hardly probable there will be an election for Presidential electors, as there is not now time to complete a registration.

It has been raining hard since yesterday afternoon. The creeks are reported as being very high.

Wallace.

[From the New York Tribune.]

Has Mr. Chairman Wallace, of the Pennsylvania State Democatic Committee, yet issued his circulars, private and confidential, for the year 1868, with minute directions for getting the "slow voters" to the polls? His published Address, at any rate, is of a highly stimulating description. It ends with the following separate and distinct roars: "Arouse The People!" "Teach The People! Pursue The Enemy!" Cash in hand, we admit is very exciting—how much cash (in the shape of money premiums for "every Democratic vote over 110") does Mr. Wallace propose to pay this year? Adventurers of Pennsylvania! avoid all other "Gift Enterprises," and go in for Mr. Wallace's truly generous premiums! Teach the people! Teach them how to make a bran-new naturalization paper look like an old one! Teach them how to perjure themselves with an unblushing front! Teach them how to steal the seal of a Court without detection! Teach dead men how to vote without leaving the grave! Teach detected felons how to abscond after squeezing money out of their Democratic patrons and tempters! Teach the slavering idiot how to vote intelligently for Blair and Seymour! Teach the "slow" districts to be fast, and the fast districts to be faster! And, above all, teach the poor blind instruments of a smug and highly respectable Chairman to strike the murderous blows which shall silence forever any tongue threatening to chatter inconveniently and unreasonably!

"Pursue the Enemy!" cries Mr. William A. Wallace. His rolling and blood-shot eye already sees the Republican forces in full retreat, pursued by a large body of railroad laborers from Clearfield and Centre counties, in Pennsylvania. It would be very funny if it should turn out that William A. Wallace and his motley forces were in this wonderful pursuit "a leetle ahead."

An Exponent of Southern Opinion.

The World says "the Mobile Register (John Forsyth's paper,) is one of the most trusted and trustworthy organs of Southern political opinion. It has been fifty years a champion of Democratic principles." The following is an extract from a sample editorial of the Register:

If civil war comes out of this conflict of political forces, the white men of the South cannot be worsted; for war and its terrors in their deadliest form are not comparable to the evils they will have to endure under a perpetuation of scallawag and carpet-bag rule. And here, we may as well say, that the people of the South do not intend to submit to that permanent rule, result as the Presidential election may. And they have only submitted to its indignities and insults so far because they have been waiting for the good sense and justice of the American people to relieve them from it and restore them to their civil rights in the November elections.

A Compliment.

The Philadelphia Press says, in reference to the recent display in the Boys in Blue demonstration in that city, of our representatives:

"The Allegheny county delegation was anxiously looked for, as all were desirous of seeing the sturdy loyalists from the county that is always true to Republican principles. Their numbers were as follows:

Boys in Blue.....600 strong.
Tanner Club.....150 strong.
Second Ward Grant Club.....100 strong.

Colonel George F. Morgan, commanding the battalion, was warmly greeted, and deserved the ovation so generously tendered him. In the evening the Germania Band, J. Horn, drum major, and A. Haeppel, musical director, who accompanied the delegation, serenaded the Press office, sending forth sweet strains of music, well calculated to enliven the hearts of the thousands of loyalists who lined the streets to hear them."

The Pittsburgh Gazette.

Speech of Gen. Jno. N. Purviance.

Following is the address delivered by Gen. John N. Purviance, of Butler, at a Republican meeting in the Fifth ward, Allegheny, on Friday evening of last week:

FELLOW-CITIZENS: On reading the papers this morning I was much gratified to see that a son of the late Stephen A. Douglas is making speeches for Grant and Colfax. Just as he should do, and as his distinguished father would be doing if living. Let us be animated by the spirit which prompted the patriotic Stephen A. Douglas in May, 1861, to lay aside party strife and to urge upon his countrymen to stand united, firm and determined, never to permit the Government to be destroyed. Douglas then said that when the country should be in danger his loyalty could be relied on. And now, as then, it is undeniably true that the country is in danger, and that there is no prospect of a peaceful solution of the difficulties but in the election of Grant and Colfax, and the whole civil and military power being confided to the loyal people of the nation. Douglas truthfully said that there never was a time from the day that Washington was inaugurated first President, when the rights of the Southern States stood firmer under the laws of the land than they did when the rebellion commenced, and he added that the secession movement was the result of an enormous conspiracy to break up the Union and destroy the Government, and that in such a crisis there are only two sides—no neutrality—only patriots or traitors. And he invoked his countrymen of all political parties to lay aside all criminations and recriminations as to the ordinary and minor questions until we shall have again a country with the United States flag floating over it, and respected on every inch of American soil. Has that day yet arrived? The bloody deeds of Southern Ku-Klux-Klans and other desperadoes answer it has not. And if Stephen A. Douglas were living to-day who can doubt but that his eloquent voice would be heard throughout the nation imploring his countrymen now, as then, to rally round the flag of the country in a firm and united support of the loyal element of the nation. He would scorn and spit upon a Wade Hampton platform and a Vallandigham candidate. He would be the last man in the nation to recognize the principle, without example in the history of the world, of the conquered dictating the terms of peace. And such is the state of things as manifested in the sentiments of the New York platform, and of the ruling element that controlled the proceedings of that Convention.

Fellow-citizens, as the canvass progresses, and the issue becomes fully understood, the true men of the nation feel an abiding faith and strong conviction that all our National troubles will soon be permanently settled and peace, prosperity and progress restored to the nation in the overwhelming majority which will be given to Grant and Colfax on the third of November next. We will then have General Grant's words, in spirit, a part of the Constitution itself—"Let us have peace," for peace we will have, settled and firmly established—and every citizen will feel, that travel where he may throughout every part and portion of the United States, the flag of his country will be his protection.

The work of reconstruction under the humane and just measures of Congress, now nearly perfected, and soon to be fully completed by the restoration of the three remaining States, Virginia, Texas and Mississippi, will permanently restore union and peace. Any other course would inevitably give new life to the elements of discord—protract, if not destroy, the peace of the nation, and may inaugurate a new rebellion.

Until peace be established all other questions are of but trifling significance. Yet, Horatio Seymour, in the midst of the pending contest, only secondary in magnitude to the conquering of rebellion on the field of strife, blows the party horn of taxes and National debt. "Push the debt and taxation upon the public attention," and this has been responded to until his partisan friends, in a fair discussion of it, have been driven to despair of any aid from such a system of party tactics. Met everywhere fairly on this question they have been forced to abandon it as damaging to their cause, for the toiling millions everywhere know that whilst taxation falls mainly upon capital, that labor and all the industrial interests of the country are almost wholly exempt from its burdens. Seymour had a point to make in urging the "debt and taxation upon public attention;" it was to withdraw if possible public attention from his war record. He knew, and no one better, that as President of the so-called Democratic National Convention of 1864, he had become committed to the treasonable sentiment, uttered in the midst of the war, when the Union army was enganed in deadly strife with rebels, that the war was a failure. He knew that that record of itself, even so odious that General McClellan, their candidate, repudiated it, was sufficient to condemn him in the eyes of the soldier as well as of all other loyal, patriotic men of the nation. He knew well, too, that the least said about his opposition to the right of the soldier to vote—the better for himself and his party—that his kind address to the New York rioters, at a time when Grant's gallant army was in the midst of deadly strife at Vicksburg, and the noble army of the Potomac fighting the decisive battle of the war at Gettysburg, would be a terrible record of dishonor to him. And there were many other weak points that he and his friends wished consigned to oblivion. The very platform upon which he now stands was to receive as little of "public attention" as possible. He knew well that it contained the three revolutionary words of Wade Hampton—that all the reconstruction measures of Congress were "revolutionary, unconstitutional and void," and in connection with Blair's letter to Broadhead, could receive no other construction than a declaration of a renewal of rebellion with all its destructive consequences. He knew, too, that he was placed in nomination for President upon that platform by Clement L. Vallandigham, who was a convicted traitor to his country. He knew, too, that the controlling element of the Convention—for he was its President, and his ear caught up every movement that the hundred and more rebels that were members of that Convention, gave tone and dictated the principles upon which he must stand as their candidate. Wade Hampton, Commander of the South Carolina Cavalry, scarcely out of the rebel saddle, and the dust of treason yet upon his coat—Forrest, of infamous Fort Pillow memory—Preston, high in standing in the rebel States as an arch-traitor during the whole rebellion, and over a hundred other rebels, many of them equally infamous—and surrounded by Beauregard and others like him swarming the New York hotels, and, in the midst of rebel yells, urging the Convention not to nominate General Hancock, nor Hendricks, nor Pendleton, nor Chase, but in grateful remembrance of Seymour's services, that he was a fit candidate, with Blair as second on the ticket. And they triumphed, and the loyal element had to furl up their flag in despair, if not disgrace.

It is under such circumstances, and such surroundings, that Horatio Seymour exclaimed in the fury of despondency, "push the debt and taxation upon public attention." Alas, for Horatio and his party. It will do him no good, it will not save the sinking vessel, nor will the old name Democratic party avail to hold the loyal masses of that party to the mere party name when every principle of Democracy is ignored. Southern secessionists have often triumphed in the name of Democracy—often deceived the masses, just as in France tyranny triumphed in the name of liberty—but their open rebellion, war upon the flag and Constitution of the country, struck from them, and the party the name they so often used to abuse. Thousands of loyal and true Democrats everywhere, who left them and joined the Republican standard, are now manfully battling for the right against injustice, oppression and wrong. Democrats that fought side by side with Republicans on the field of bloody strife, with few exceptions, like the patriotic Douglas, in May, 1861, know no party in this contest worthy of their support but the loyal party of the Nation. And they have no trouble to find it when Grant and Colfax are the chosen leaders. Thousands of Democrats whose sons and brothers fill one common grave on the field of strife, or perished in rebel prisons with Union Republicans, weep their loss, remember the enemy, and now for the first time are found in the great loyal column that is moving on to victory, animated with the patriotic national sentiment that carries Grant into the Presidential Mansion and Colfax to a position that enables him, through Committees, to mould and give shape to National legislation. Such Democrats deserve the confidence and respect of all parties and all patriotic citizens; for them we have words of kindness, sympathy and admiration.

When Secession first moved off in South Carolina, under the lead of Calhoun, Gen. Jackson soon put it down, and if he had had his way would have hung its leader. Jackson, though elected on the Democratic ticket, did not hesitate to assert the power of the Government to put down Secession and Rebellion, and did do it by threatening the use of the whole military power of the Government to overthrow treason in whatever form it presented itself. This was regarded good Constitutional doctrine in his day. And it may be truthfully asserted that he was the last Democratic President elected as such, and under that name, that has proved true to the people. Polk, though elected under the popular name Democrat, disregarded, in the main, the principles of the party, and was almost wholly the slave holders' President. Witness his purpose in the annexation scheme of Texas and the war with Mexico. Pierce found himself too weak to resist the same power, on its demand for the repeal of the Missouri Compromise—and Buchanan paled and trembled before the same power, was forced to ignore the doctrine of Gen. Jackson, and concede the right of secession, or of the total want of power in the government to coerce a State, and prevent a destruction of the Government. Here we have a full recognition of the Calhoun doctrine and its consequences—war—and all in the name of the Democracy.

And now the same party, or rather, I should say, a party under the same name, still remembering its power, rallies at New York, and asks the people to vote for their platform and candidates, because it is called the Democratic party. Shame on the man that would attempt to thus deceive and betray the people, and all honor to the noble, patriotic and intelligent masses who trample into dust their platform and march to victory under the National banner—upheld by millions of loyal hands, with Grant and Colfax in front of the loyal column. They know that the war was defensive, and to save a great Government from threatened destruction, and they are not now willing to surrender it into the hands of its enemy, whatever name the enemy may assume.

We feel no disposition to discuss the financial question, though no desire whatever to shirk it. It is a question that has been fully and ably discussed by many of our ablest statesmen and financiers.

It is true we have a large national debt, and it is equally true that the loyal party of the nation is not responsible for its contraction—that it was brought upon us by rebels who attempted to destroy the nation—is known by every one here as well as in Europe. War was made to overthrow the Constitution and destroy the best government on earth. At the beginning of the rebellion the nation was almost powerless for defense. The navy off in distant seas, the army in the remotest southern States, and the munitions of war almost wholly in the possession of rebels, the treasury plundered and the national credit dishonored—all a part and piece of the gigantic conspiracy to break up and destroy the government; the flag of our country fired upon, our forts seized and military property in the hands of our enemies. What, under such a state of things, was to be done? Raise an army for defense, borrow money to buy arms and feed and clothe that army. This was done; bonds were issued and other national securities to an amount from time to time necessary for national defense. This a loyal Congress did, and received the commendations of their loyal constituents for it. Bonds were issued and put on the market under certain guarantees of Congress, to the amount of, say ($20,000,000) twenty millions of dollars, at different rates of interest, and payable in different kinds of currency, and it is a fact worthy of note here that the 5-20 bonds, bearing 6 per cent. interest, payable semi-annually in gold, were so issued by the votes of fifty-five members of Congress, called Democrats, and among others Mr. Pendleton, and without that vote this class of bonds would not have contained that clause. Of these bonds six hundred millions are held in foreign countries. The national banks hold over four hundred millions and pay annually a United States and State tax of nearly twenty millions of dollars. Largely the other bonds are held by Savings Banks, Insurance Companies, Colleges, and other institutions of learning or benevolence, and by trustees and guardians for orphans and minor children, &c. The income tax reaches a large portion of them, and thus they are taxed.

The interest on the National debt has been promptly paid, and several millions of it already paid off, leaving at present a National debt of twenty-five hundred and fifty millions of dollars. Some sixteen hundred millions of it is secured by the five-twenty bonds, which are not demandable for payment until twenty years after their date.

Now, how is this debt to be met and paid? "Let us have peace," and with it will follow industry, prosperity and progress to such an extent, and so rapidly, that under a mild system of taxation, such as we now have, being upon capital and luxuries, and not on labor, that it would be gradually reduced from year to year, and perhaps wholly paid off before twenty years without oppressing our people or materially affecting business and trade.

Questions involving the honor of the nation should not be brought into party politics. Harmony of sentiment and action should be the purpose and pride of all good citizens. The National debt was contracted for a noble purpose. It was unavoidable, consistent with unity and national existence. Taxation for its payment is equally an obligation of honor, and it is the duty and business of the statesman to devise the best system to raise the amount required by means of taxation so as to make the burden, in just proportion, rest on those ablest to bear it. This is just what we think Congress has done.

There are no taxes levied upon food or clothing, on the growth or manufacture of the country, nor is there any taxes levied on the productions of the farm or the workshop. Scarcely an article manufactured in the United States is subjected to taxation, except sprits and tobacco. The income tax is so far modified that but few pay anything under it, for, unless the income amounts to over one thousand dollars, with certain allowed deductions, no tax is levied on it. Thousands everywhere escape income tax and those who pay it feel it no burden because of their large incomes.

The duties on imported goods yield annually, in gold, one hundred and sixty-five millions of dollars, most of it paid on articles of luxury. While these duties tend to protect and promote home manufactures and give encouragement to every branch of industry, they at the same time afford a revenue of over twenty-five millions of dollars more than the interest on the National debt. The income tax yields annually forty millions. The National Banks pay, in national and State taxes, twenty millions. The license tax amounts to twenty millions. The stamp tax upon deeds, mortgages, bonds, bank checks, &c., yields seventeen millions. The tax on spirits and tobacco is estimated to yield annually one hundred millions. The tax on railroads and other corporations yields some seven millions, and the taxes upon carriages, watches, silver plate, &c., amounts to six millions. This last item more than pays the whole expenses of the Freedmens' Bureau, about which we hear so much.

Now, we think this a pretty good system of taxation, and one that falls lightly upon all; and with the rapid increase of the country in wealth and population, enterprise in railroads and other improvements, would be sufficient to pay off the whole debt in less than twenty years. Before the half that time shall have elapsed, the national wealth, even at the usual assessed value, will not be less than fifty billions, and the population fully fifty millions.

Let us have peace, and the tax question free from party strife, and in a few years the gold dollar will be circulated side by side with the greenback dollar.

Now, Mr. Seymour says, "Push the debt and taxation upon public attention," and that at a time when it can have no other effect but to depreciate the one and increase the other. He is ungenerous to his friends in one respect, for he gives them no plan of his own. Nor does he lay down any principle for his friends to push upon public attention. We may assume, then, that he has no plan but that laid down by the New York Convention, over which he presided and whose candidate he is. What is it? I take the tax resolution as I find it in this newspaper, published in the city of Pittsburgh, called the Daily Post, of September 11, 1868. The resolution is in these words:

"Fourth—Equal taxation of every species of property according to its real value, including Government bonds and other securities."

Now, is this what Mr. Seymour wishes to push upon public attention? If so, let us push it. And let us imagine that the Congress of the United States would pass just sush a tax law. Let us imagine the hundreds of thousands of tax duplicates that would have to be issued, and the hundreds of thousands of tax collectors to be appointed, and the innumerable items to be placed on the tax list. Every farmer would be taxed for his farm, his horses, his wagon, his plow and harrow, every foot of horned cattle on his plantation, the grain and hay in the mow, the hogs and sheep, the table upon which is the bread for himself and his family, the chair, the cupboard and dresser ware, the beds and bureaus—in short, every species of property owned by him, and that at its real value; not at the ordinary valuation made by assessors. This is the taxation Mr. Seymour invokes. Now, where is the man that wants it? But it don't stop here. The mechanic is to be taxed with the very articles of his trade, the clergyman with his library, the doctor and the lawyer with theirs, as well as everything owned by them, the artist with his camera, and the merchant with his store goods, and the manufacturer with every pound of iron and every yard of cloth. Such a tax list. O! who can imagine its magnitude over the length and breadth of a nation of forty millions of people, one of whose States is larger than all Europe. Yet this is Mr. Seymour's plan, or system of taxation, to which he is pledged and bound by the New York platform. Look at it, think of it, and push the tax question upon public attention. This is no imaginary picture; it is just what the resolution calls for, and would be carried out if Seymour and Blair should be chosen the chief officers of the nation, if in their power.

This system of taxation may be just what the rebels want, for it would soon make taxation odious, so much so that they would soon get up an anti-tax party, and then push the tax question to repudiation, if possible, or compel an assumption of their debt, under the eighth section of their platform, wherein they declare that the "reconstruction acts (so-called) of Congress as usurpations and unconstitutional, revolutionary and void." Set them aside and let them have their way of reconstruction, and they will then have gained all they lost by the war. Justice and truth demand that we should say that Mr. Seymour is in terrible bad company, and stands on an awfully rickety and dangerous platform, one that threatens ruin and destruction to the nation.

Gen. Grant needs no eulogy at the hands of any one. History will do him justice, and the great events of his life will place him first among the great Generals of the world, not second in greatness to Napoleon and equal to Washington.

Called like Washington from the civil pursuits of life, when the first sound of strife was heard, his record is one of continuous increasing fame from the beginning of the war until its close. And whether we view him quietly performing the duties of mustering officer at Springfield, or as colonel of a regiment, or follow him in his promotion to the highest military office in the Government, we find him alike in all positions, true to every trust, and great in every position. Promotion with him was not sought for either personally or through friends, and never excited envy, but universal admiration throughout the whole army, because fairly won and voluntarily conferred for distinguished services. And the further promotion now soon to be conferred upon him, alike unsolicited, will silence opposition in every section of the country, and secure tranquility to the nation.

Whilst we feel confident that Mr. Seymour's policy of agitation on the debt and and tax question will never give repose and peace to the country, we believe that a solution of all our national difficulties is found in the admirable words of General Grant, "Let us have Peace."

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, October 3, 1868.

MONEY AND GOLD.

The great feature of Wall street this afternoon was the sudden and marked change in the money market to extreme ease. Money was offered with the greatest profusion and there was a break in the rates of interest from 7 to 5 and 6 per cent. just before three o'clock, and to 3 to 4 per cent. after that hour, with a general desire to accept almost any rate for the sake of making interest for the two days. A large amount was returned to the banks, including one lot of four millions from the Erie brokers' firm.

RIVER NEWS.

The river appeared to be at a stand yesterday afternoon with about five feet in the channel; as the figures indicating the stage of water are not discernable, we baye to guess at it. Te weather yesterday was mild and pleasant, though at times there were indications of rain.

The arrivals since the date of our last report include the Camelia and Glendale, from St. Louis, New Stale, from Wheeling, and Bayard, from Parkersburg.

The only transient departure was the Yorktown, for Louisville. The Glasgow, for Cincinnati and Louisville, and America, for St. Louis, got off on Friday evening.

The Tennessee, Wild Duck and J. N. McCullough left Cincinnati for Pittsburgh on Friday, and the Ida Rees No. 2 and Armenly were advertised to follow on Saturday.

The Kate Putnam, en route from Pittsburgh to St. Louis, passed Evansville on Friday.

The Messenger, en route from St. Louis to Pittsburgh, passed Cairo on Friday.

The Bayard, Capt. A. S. Shepard, is the regular packet for Parkersburg to-day, leaving promptly at noon.

The Alps, Wilson, Star, Sam Parker, Hercules, Panther, and other boats passed by Cincinnati with tows of coal.

Capt. A. B. Hopkins recently sold one-half of the Lizzie Hopkids at New Orleans to John T. Root at the rate of $24,000 for the entire boat.

—The R. C. Gray, Armenia and Kate Putnam were at Louisville on Thursday.

—The J. N. McCullough, Ida Rees No. 2 and Wild Duck were advertised to leave Cincinnati for Pittsburgh on Friday.

—A late Vicksburg exchange says: The St. Marys laid here 16 hours, receiving 152 bales of cotton at $1 per bale. Time was evidently of little importance to her skipper.

—Says the Cincinnati Commercial, of Saturday: We are pained to record the death of Capt. Wm. A. Gregg, of the Cincinnati and St. Louis Express Line steamer Champion. He died in Dayton, Ohio, on Thursday, at 10:30 p. m., of typhoid fever, while on a short visit to his son, attending school at that place. Capt. Gregg came to this city from Pennsylvania when quite a y ung man, and first shipped as a carpenter, since which time he has been piloting between Cincinnati and New Orleans, and commanding steamers. He was forty-seven years old, when suddenly cut down. He was noted for his energy and integrity. He leaves a finally in this city to mourn his loss.

—We find the following in the Winona Republican, of the 25th: One of those shooting affrays, so often accompanying gambling, happened on the steamer Muscatine to day, when the boat was between La-Crosse and Winona, coming up. One of the professional gamblers who infest our Mississippi steamers was playing his avocation in the lower deck, and quite a crowd, composed of deck passengers and the hands on the boat, were gathered around. In the course of the gambling operations one fellow seized the pile of money on the table and the gambler shot at him with a pistol. The ball missed the man for whom it was intended, and hit one of the deck hands, a colored man man named William Smith, inflicting a wound in the abdomen, which, though severe, is probably not fatal.

—The St. Louis Republican says: The war in the Upper Mississippi continues to be prosecuted with undiminished vigor. No concessions, no compromise, no consolidation. A stockholder, as well as an executive officer in one of the lines, informed us yesterday, that he would sooner sacrifice every dollar he had at stake than to take a single step looking towards a reconciliation. He considers that his company has acted fairly and honorably, in every arrangement which has heretofore been made, and lived to the requirements thereof, in each and every particular. His opponents, no doubt, hold the same opinions, looking from a different stand point, so that there is good reason for supposing that the present conflict, instead of being "short, sharp and decisive," will be tedious, unsatisfactory and expensive.

We also clip the following from the same paper: The City of Alton is having the restaurant movement inserted in her upper works. An aegument opposing this system, on the ground that passengers would seriously object to paying "by the meal" while a boat happened to be aground, has been successfully refuted by a statement that the boat pays the caterer for meals furnished passengers during such detention.

"SEYMOUR AND BLAIR WILL GIVE US ALL THE CONFEDERACY FOUGHT FOR."—Ex-Rebel Gov. Vance's speech at the Democratic Ratification Meeting in Richmond.

WE PRINT on the inside pages of this morning's GAZETTE—Second page: Speech of Gen. J. N. Purviance in Allegheny. Third and Sixth pages: Commercial, Financial and River News. Seventh page: Religious Intelligence, Poetry.

Gold closed in New York on Saturday at 140½@140⅝.

THE Electoral Ticket, as we print it this morning, is authentic in every particular.

ON OUR Seventh page will be found Rev. W. H. KINCAID'S religious columns, which were crowded out on Saturday by a press of other matter.

COMPARE the charges made against the Democratic managers here, last Saturday, with the record made by leaders of the same party, in Clearfield county, last year. The tactics are the same; it is only a change in the men.

WORK! REPUBLICANS, WORK! if you would not have the government of the nation go back into the hands of the rebels who sought its life, and the government of the State into the hands of men whose sympathies were with the rebels all through the dismal years of the great struggle.

THE large payments for soldiers' bounties will entirely cease with the close of the present year. This will make a vast difference in the apparent expenses of the War Department, since even an unscrupulous opposition will then no longer be able to declaim against heavy expenses "for army purposes," which are in fact chargeable upon their Rebellion.

IF ALL persons who may send returns of the election by telegraph will be careful to state whether the figures show a Republican or Democratic loss or gain as compared with 1866, what they send will be intelligible. Otherwise the papers, on the morning of the 14th instant will be flooded with dispatches which will only perplex the readers. Pray! bear this suggestion in mind, and act upon it.

STEADY, MEN! Political parties are as liable as armies to be thrown into panic, and with equally baleful consequences. This is the point of danger the Republicans of Philadelphia have need to watch at this moment. Let them remember that a plot exposed, is a plot at least half baffled, and follow up the corruptionists with unrelenting vigor. Republicans throughout the State are not alarmed, and not only mean to win this campaign, but know they have votes enough to put success beyond contingencies.

ON OUR SECOND PAGE we publish this morning the able and argumentative speech of Hon. J. N. PURVIANCE, of Butler, Pa., delivered on Friday evening last, before a large and enthusiastic meeting of Republicans at Manchester. The speech is one of the clearest thus far made in the campaign and will repay careful perusal. Mr. PURVIANCE is doing good service in the great cause. He is a vigorous talker, clear thinker and a man of unblemished record and one whose words are entitled to the fullest measure of respect.

BLAIR went to Bedford to speak last Thursday, escorted by the rebel General MCKAIG, of Maryland. The crowd was small—only two hundred persons being present—but it embodied a pure and living Democracy. This was proved in the fact that even this small tea-party was strong enough to surround all the available whisky in the borough.

THOSE Republicans of Philadelphia who labored lustily last year to secure the election of Mr. SHARSWOOD on the plea that he was a man of superior ability and uprightness, have found out that they had then much to learn as to his character. Now, they implore the Republicans of the West, whom they then insulted, to save them from the consequences of their own folly. The lesson, by reason of its bitterness, will be apt to do the Philadelphia recusants good.

FOR YEARS PAST Democratic Prothonotaries of Pennsylvania Courts have not failed, when wanted, to place the seals of their respective Courts where the forgers of naturalization certificates could conveniently put their hands thereon, and have then turned away their faces complacently while the abstraction was accomplished. It is full time at least one of these official scoundrels got into the Penitentiary in punishment of his crime.

IT IS rumored that SNOWDEN, Prothonotary of the Supreme Court in Philadelphia, is to be arrested and tried upon the allegations connecting him with the infamous naturalization frauds recently exposed in that city. Several good Democrats, who have been arrested for thieving, assaults, &c., were found to have a supply of papers signed by SNOWDEN in blank upon their persons, and it is only right that he should be called upon to explain this matter to a Criminal Court and Jury.

D. O'SULLIVAN, editor of the Irish People, which has recently abandoned the Democracy and come out for GRANT, publishes a card in the New York papers, refuting the libellous charge that he had been persuaded to that course by a thousand dollar bribe. He also states that suits have been instituted against the slanderers. Doubtless. He would include the Pittsburgh Post in the prosecution, if the game was worth the candle, or if he ever hears that such a journal exists. What ideas of personal honor must be entertained by these Democratic journalists, who can find no satisfactory explanation for a change of polities except in bribery and petty dishonesty!

THE JUDGES of the several Courts in Chicago have instituted a much-needed reform in the matter of naturalizing foreigners; they have ordered that all proceedings for the naturalization of aliens shall be had only in open Court, in the presence, hearing and with the personal attention and supervision of the Judge, during the ordinary hours of holding Courts, and that any infraction of this rule will be treated and punished as a serious and grave contempt of Court.

This reform does not come a moment too soon. By the manner in which the Judges have generally allowed the business of naturalization to be conducted they have brought themselves and the administration of justice into contempt with all classes of citizens.

"EQUAL taxation of every species of property, according to its real value, including government bonds and other public securities."

When this Fourth Demand of the Democratic National Platform was read to the Convention it was received with deafening applause. We thought then that in their eagerness to tax the bondholders the Democratic leaders were pushing very "sharp sticks" into the masses of the people who are either poor or only in comfortable circumstances. They now see the blunder they made, and some of them, like Mr. KIMMELL, the candidate for Congress in the Bedford district, have the impudence to deny that the words quoted are in the New York Platform. They forget that American citizens are not ignoramuses, but read and judge for themselves.

THE Post frets and fumes, because, forsooth, the Mayor of Allegheny has permitted a portrait of General GRANT to occupy a place in his office. Well, the impudence of our neighbor is decidedly refreshing. Intelligent Democrats who call at the Mayor's office will not feel insulted by the presence of the great hero's portrait; and those who are ignorant and small-souled enough to complain are generally found only amongst the chaps who have little bills to settle with His Honor, after a night's lodging in the tombs. When ages shall have rolled away and the memory of those now opposing his elevation shall have long died out, the portrait of the hero President, GRANT, will live in the veneration of the people, for each returning century will add lustre to the bright deeds of patriotism which marked the life of the original. It is no shame to honor the portrait of the Redeemer of his Country, notwithstanding the loyal Post's assertion to the contrary.

THE Pittsburgh Post will "not tire nor perplex its readers" with DELMAR'S figures, but displays that blockhead's results in boldface type, to wit: "Deficit in the Treasury for the current year of $154,339,202, which must be met by further loans and increased taxation." All this is the merest stuff. No such deficit will exist, and Secretary MCCULLOCH and the other Democratic officials, whose honesty DELMAR has impugned, will presently make statements to show it, which statements, we hazard the prediction in advance, the Post will omit to publish, as it did the powerful letter of General DIX the other day.

But as to DELMAR'S "deficit," the Treasury officials already announce that his errors amount in the aggregate to over $170,000,000, and that his alleged deficit will actually turn out to be a surplus. DELMAR and MCCULLOCH both support SEYMOUR, but we prefer to rely upon the Secretary's superior honesty and brains.

OUR BOYS IN BLUE.

Allegheny County sent a battallion to Philadelphia last week, over four hundred strong, under the command of Major MORGAN. NEGLEY, SWEITZER and scores of other officers who won distinction in their country's service, were also in attendance.

THE WAY TO DO IT.

Here and there we find a man who says he means to vote far GRANT and COLFAX in November who is in doubt how he will vote, if at all, in October. All men who are in earnest to secure the election of GRANT and COLFAX ought to understand that they can help forward that consummation in no way so much as by voting for HARTRANFT and CAMPBELL on the thirteenth of this month. A decidedly handsome majority for the Republican candidates at the State Election will carry the Presidential issue with a rush, not only in Pennsylvania but throughout the Union.

A SQUARE BACK OUT.

For months, Democratic orators and presses have been insisting that the National bonds shall be subjected to State taxation. They have at last made a virtue of necessity, and abandoned this position. PENDLETON, at Cleveland, admitted that no such right legally existed, and now the Chicago Times of the 29th, which is nothing if not Democratic, and a thorough—paced partizan, "acknowledges the corn" as follows:

"General Morgan, of Ohio, an honest and able man, and a Democrat who did good service in fighting the rebellion, said the States could tax bonds; but even he does not now advance that doctrine, because sundry decisions of the Supreme Court have been adverse to it. The question is a debatable one; but the Democratic party is not now, and never has been, committed to the doctrine that the States can tax the Federal bonds."

THE DOOR STILL WIDE OPEN.

Among the latest conversions to the cause of GRANT and Peace, are Hon. ROBERT H. PRUYN, of Albany, who ran for Lieutenant Governor on the Democratic ticket, with HOFFMAN, two years ago; Colonel HALE KINGSLEY, who ran for County Judge in Albany on the Democratic ticket; and the gallant General THOMAS EGAN, of Philadelphia, known as one of President JOHNSON'S most intimate friends. Leading Democrats in Baltimore, such men as WALTERS and NEWCOMER, the Finance Committee under Mayor BANKS, are now betting at large odds that GRANT will be elected; nor are they likely to vote very early or very often against their own bets. Keep the doors wide open, so as to admit the crowd comfortably! After next week we must knock a hole in the side of the wigwam to relieve this pressure.

HONOR TO WHOM HONOR.

The Democrats held almost continuous possession of the government of Pennsylvania for the long period of more than thirty years. When ejected therefrom, they left the terrible legacy of a debt of nearly forty millions of dollars, and property of only small market value to apply in cancelling it. During the last eight years the Republicans have reduced this debt by the sum of four millions and a quarter of dollars, and have, in addition, released all real estate within the Commonwealth from taxation for general purposes. The last year the land tax was levied, it amounted to the large sum of one million and six hundred thousand dollars. Mark! this was done while the war compelled extraordinary disbursements to volunteers, and for making provision for sick and wounded soldiers. Herein is found evidence of both administrative ability, of economy, and of honesty. Business men whose affairs are managed in a corresponding manner, by the agents they employ, feel that they can make nothing by a change, but may entail incalculable mischiefs upon themselves by turning off competent and faithful servants. Let the voters reflect, and wisely resolve to continue the administration of public affairs in the hands that have so far done pre-eminently well.

PROTECTION FOR HONEST VOTERS.

The audacity of the "coffee-pot" brigade has received an unexpected check. The frauds which their Executive Committee were able to perpetrate with impunity in some of the central counties last year, have been again attempted this year, and in the populous counties of Allegheny and Westmoreland. The attempt has been met on the threshold, and the perpetrators are already in the hands of the law, which will deal with them according to their deserts.

Pennsylvania is Republican to-day by over twenty thousand majority, in any fair and honest poll upon the State ticket. The opposition know this, and accordingly have determined to swamp that majority by the most infamous and audacious frauds. Witness the charges made by a responsible party, as detailed in another column; witness the wholesale scoundrelism of the Philadelphia colonizations and naturalizations, backed up by the most prominent candidates of their party, shielded by the unscrupulous partizanship of eminent Judges, and aided with the most criminal abuse of their official functions, by servants of the same judiciary; witness the perjuries, briberies and murder in Clearfield last year, and remember that these men have been encouraged by impunity to repeat their offences.

The Republicans of this State propose to have a square and honest poll. If they are to be beaten by these Democratic frauds, they mean to know how and by whom the villainy is perpetrated. They mean to find out, and that too without delay, whether the purity of the suffrage means anything more than an old woman's song, whether the integrity of the Courts be as hollow and shameless a farce as recent experience would indicate, and whether this Commonwealth governs, and is governed, by law, or whether it is to be surrendered, without a struggle, to the infamous depths of public dishonor and official corruption a million times more detestable than even the revolutionary anarchy of the South, which a great party tramples upon laws and constitutions everywhere to inaugurate.

BLOCKING THE LITTLE GAME.

In our local columns, the reader will find full details of the charge of an attempted outrage, by the Democratic Committee, upon the ballot-boxes, by "colonizing" the adjoining Twenty-first Congressional District. This "colonizing" is done by sending into a contested locality numbers of illegal voters, for the purpose of controlling the result. This is easily done where accommodating Assessors can be found; in rural districts, where railways are to be built, the facilities and the temptation, to such unscrupulous partizans as are our opponents, are very great. This is the game which has apparently been attempted, to ensure the defeat of Hon. JOHN COVODE. But it seems to have been played too boldly and defiantly, and the operators have suddenly come to grief, Mr. COVODE having caused the arrest, on Saturday, of a number of persons, whom he holds responsible as the leading participators. Prominent among these is the "Deputy Chairman for Western Pennsylvania" of the Democratic State Committee. With him, the arrests on Saturday included other citizens of this and Westmoreland counties, and all the parties have been held to bail for a further examination on Wednesday next.

It is possible that the accused parties may prove their innocence of the crime charged against them. We hope they will succeed in doing so. But while we have no desire to misjudge their case, we cannot do our whole duty without saying that appearances are very strongly against them. The clear statement of facts in Mr. COVODE'S affidavit, the well known desperate and reckless nature of the Democratic opposition to his re-election, the extreme probability, that a citizen of his marked prudence and caution, would not take this decisive step, which places the alleged offenders within the custody of the law, without ample and conclusive evidence of their guilt, and the damning record which other Democratic managers made for themselves in the Clearfield region last year, exhibiting their readiness to resort to any degree of crime, be it fraudulent naturalizations, the colonization of voters, bribery and intimidation, or even murder itself—all these justly prepare us for crediting the truth of the present charges, in their fullest extent. Nor should it be forgotten that the person mainly implicated, in his own "card" published in the GAZETTE and Post of Saturday morning, relative to another distinct charge of the same nature, makes so poor a case in reply as to leave little doubt of his systematic complicity in this business.

Whatever may be his position and reputation elsewhere, the impression here is a common one, irrespective of party, that his temporary sojourn in Allegheny county as "Deputy Chairman," &c., is for the express purpose of doing up all such dirty jobs in this quarter, for the Democratic managers as may require personal attention and an unquestioning obedience to orders. He avowedly comes here as the lieutenant of another, and that other a bold intriguer who stands convicted by sworn testimony printed under the authority of the Commonwealth, of being an accessory to the crimes of perjury and bribery, and, more than that, polluted with the blood of another citizen murdered to prevent an exposure of partisan guilt. If the "Deputy Chairman" is not guilty of the charges made on Saturday, let him make haste to get out of bad company, wash his hands of association with men from whose hands the blood of murdered innocence never will wash out; let him publish no more "cards" virtually acknowledging his complicity in offences like that now charged against him; let him forsake a position which, in public opinion, might connect him with every possible wrong that the most infamously reckless partizanship can concoct, to rob lawful voters of their rights; and, finally, let him abandon his temporary occupation in political intrigues here, and either take up a more reputable calling, or go back to his own county, where "his character is too well established to be injured by such a charge." Allegheny can spare him, and proposes to do so.

IMPORTANT CORRECTION.

A few days since, we inadvertently reprinted a paragraph from the Philadelphia Ledger to the effect that, according to a dictum of Justices STRONG and THOMPSON, sitting in the Supreme Court in that city, a foreign-born citizen duly assessed and subsequently naturalized within the ten days preceding the election may lawfully vote. This is an error, since the point in question has been distinctly and repeatedly decided the other way. The point has been regularly raised, on the eve of important elections, heretofore, and uniformly the practice has been to hold, 1st, that the assessors have no right to place upon their lists the name of any man who is not legally qualified at the date of his application, and, 2d, that no intention to perfect the applicant's title to a vote, subsequent to assessment and before the election, by final naturalization or otherwise, could warrant the assessors in enrolling his name. Judge ALLISON also held as to the Ledger's paragraph, that:—

It must certainly be a mistake, and he could not believe that either Judge Thompson or Judge Strong ever expressed such an opinion as the newspaper shown him set forth. They must have been misquoted, for neither of them would deliver such an opinion in the face of so plain a law as cited.

SIGEL "FIGHTS 'MIT GRANT."

Listen to the crack of his gun, "for national supremacy, justice and humanity," in the annexed letter to the Philadelphia Boys in Blue:

"MORRISANIA, Sept. 25, 1868.

"N. P. Chipman, Secretary:

"DEAR SIR—Your letter inviting me to be present at the grand mass convention, to be held at Philadelphia on the 1st and 2d of October next, is received.

"In thanking the committee for the cordial invitation, I am sorry to say that other engagements and duties will prevent me from participating in your demonstration at the time stated. I shall, however, not fail to be present at the grand mass meeting of the 3d of November, to throw my vote into the scale for the triumph of national supremacy, justice and humanity.

"Very respectfully and truly yours,
"F. SIGEL,
"Late Major General of Volunteers."

CORRUPTION OF THE COURTS.

The progress of the canvass has developed in all parts of the State a vast amount of flagrant dishonesty in the issuing of naturalization certificates. Judges and Prothonotaries, in numerous instances, are guilty, not simply of gross neglect, but palpable connivance at unquestionable violations of the laws, deeply affecting the purity of the ballot-boxes. In utter disregard of their oaths and of the delicate nature of the functions they are appointed to execute, they lend themselves to the vilest schemes that the worst descriptions of politicians devise. This is, indeed, harsh language; but the fault is not in the words but in the conduct of the Courts which gives the words the keen edge they bear.

This iniquity has gone so far that it must be effectually stopped, or the people will lose all confidence in the tribunals of public justice, or, which would be deplorable, be swept headlong under stress of exasperation to take vengeance upon such of them as persist in offending.

The Judge or Prothonotary who allows blank certificates of naturalization to be hawked about, filled up at street corners or in grog-shops, deserves the worst punishment that can be inflicted on him at the hands of an outraged community. Of course, such retribution is wrong in itself and in its tendencies; but these considerations do not touch the question of the desert of this kind of scoundrels.

Nor is this all. The Judge or Prothonotary who will aid in this infamy, or only wink at it, will take a bribe to pervert justice in any case between individual litigants. This is one of the causes of popular discontent with the Courts. Under cover of law, and with professions of peculiar sanctity, many of them embark every fall regularly in naturalization frauds. There must be a speedy end to this infamous business.

DUTY OF THE HOUR.

Every Pennsylvania Republican who heard the returns of the recent elections in Vermont and Maine, and was rejoiced thereby, perceived in them, if he listened aright, a summons to himself to remit no practicable effort to secure an equally favorable result here. So far as the destiny of the Republic is concerned those electrifying victories, far at the east, might as well not have been, if they are not followed up by as memorable triumphs here and elsewhere.

The eyes of all loyal men throughout the nation are now turned upon Pennsylvania, and with the deepest solicitude. While a defeat here would not be fatal, it would be dispiriting. We do not anticipate a repulse. On the contrary we are confident of so grand a success as shall make the rest of the campaign easy—a promenade rather than a march.

The discovery of naturalization frauds does not appal us. Such frauds have been resorted to at every stoutly contested election for a long period. It has come practically to this, through the connivance of the Judges and Prothonotaries of Courts, that every foreign-born man votes unless restrained by a sense of personal honor. It is likely to be so this year; but cannot be much worse than that. The Democrats have succeeded twice by such frauds; but have been beaten much oftener in defiance of the worst they could do. They will be beaten this autumn as badly as they ever have been, if only the Republicans do their whole duty, and we see no reason to doubt as to that.

This is why we repeat the admonition to activity and vigilance on their part. Only eight days remain. Republicans! give these days to the country, and all will be well.

GEMS OF NATIONAL DEMOCRACY.

We glean below a few specimens of Southern rebel opinion in relation to the Camilla butchery:

The Columbus (Ga.) Sun hopes "that at the next collision, sure and speedy vengeance may seek and find the white leaders rather than their ignorant and deluded dupes."

The Charleston Mercury hopes that, if another such affair occurs, it may be able to "chronicle that every white man has been slain."

The Southern (Va.) Opinion declares that the problem "will have to be decided by arms, if not decided at the polls in November by the election of SEYMOUR and BLAIR." It adds:

"Ballots are cheaper than blood, and elections better than battles. But if Grant be chosen, and we do not misjudge him and his policy, then the disciplined cohorts of the South must be marshaled once more, and the issue will be, shall white or black men rule in the South? When that issue comes to the last argument, reposed in the musket muzzle and the bayonet's point, where will the poor negro be!"

THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN THEM.

Political parties, and particularly in times of uncommon ferment, select their leaders not so much by calculation as by instinct.

Said HORATIO SEYMOUR:

"If it is true that Slavery must be abolished to save the Union, then the people of the South should be allowed to withdraw themselves from that Government which cannot give them the protection guaranteed by its terms."

Said U. S. GRANT:

"Human liberty is the only true foundation of human government."

The difference between these utterances is fundamental. The two speakers have no marked qualities or sentiments in common. Each party, by elective affinity, took the one that accorded with its own aspirations and purposes.

ACCORDING to the Pittsburgh Dispatch, true Democracy consists in warfare against Orphan Asylums. The policy which HORATIO SEYMOUR'S "friends" inaugurated in New York by burning an asylum over the heads of hundreds of little orphans there, has, as our cotemporary puts it, been faithfully followed up by eminent exponents of Democracy in Pittsburgh, in "gobbling up" a large per centage of a State appropriation for St. Paul's Orphan Asylum here. This is bad for the Democracy, but, unfortunately, it is still worse for the poor fatherless and homeless orphans. The Dispatch should forbear!

Look to Your Dollar Notes.

Peterson's Counterfeit Director says:

The whole United States has been flooded with a political circular to which is attached a fac simile of the United States legal tender one dollar note. Seymour's likeness is on the left upper corner instead of Chase's. We give the following description; Instead of Chase's likeness on the left hand corner, which the genuine dollar greenback contains, this imitation bears the likeness of Seymour, and has a fac simile signature of Treasurer Spinner. On the back it promises to pay the bondholders in greenbacks, including five twenty bonds. It would be advisable for every one to be careful in taking one dollar greenbacks. This is nothing more than a wood-cut; judges can soon tell it from the fine engraving of United States notes.

Financial Policy of the Republican Party—Business Men, Read and Ponder.

The following is the sixth resolution in the platform on which Grant and Colfax stand:

THAT THE BEST POLICY TO DIMINISH OUR BURDEN OF DEBT IS TO SO IMPROVE OUR CREDIT THAT CAPITALISTS WILL SEEK TO LOAN US MONEY AT LOWER RATES THAN WE NOW PAY, AND MUST CONTINUE TO PAY SO LONG AS REPUDIATION, PARTIAL OR TOTAL, OPEN OR COVERT, IS THREATENED OR SUSPECTED.

The State Fair.

HARRISBURG, Oct. 1.—The receipts for admission during the day were nearly $7,000, and up to the present time the total receipts are about $13,000. Gen. Capron, United States Commissioner of Agriculture, was present and took a lively interest in the exhibition.

At ten o'clock there was a ploughing match, and a trial of ploughs and harrows on the upper circle of the park. The match was made up between Mr. Henry Marshall for J. R. Eby, with Speer & Hall's plough, and Elias Brooks for Samuel Plank, of Churchtown, Cumberland county, with the high-cutter plough. A large number of people witnessed the match, and were interested in it as it progressed. The awards for the match and on the trials will be made to-morrow.

Colfax at Lafayette.

Mr. Colfax had a magnificent reception at Lafayette, Ind., on the 9th. He made a very impressive speech. After enumerating the infamous outrages recently perpetrated in the South, Mr. Colfax said that these outrages could not but fill every American with burning shame, and that a stop must be put to them, and he declared from Gen. Grant's own views that it was the first duty of an Executive to see to it that every Union man in the South should be protected. This statement made, as it was, in the most emphatic manner, elicited thunders of applause. Mr. Colfax said also of the election of the Republican ticket: "I feel as certain as though the polls were counted already."

THE SPANISH REVOLUTION.—The official Madrid Gazette of Wednesday publishes a proclamation of the Provisional Government, pronouncing the deposition of Queen Isabella, proclaiming the sovereignty of the people, and denouncing the Bourbons. The proclamation reflects the views of the whole Progressist party, and indicates that the party will go against the Duke of Montpensier—not out of regard for Napoleon, but because the Duke is a Bourbon—and that they will order the election of a Constituent Assembly by universal suffrage.

A SLIGHT COLD, COUGH,

OR SORE THROAT may be checked if a reliable remedy is applied at once, but if neglected very soon preys upon the lungs, and the result may prove fatal. The past few weeks of changeable temperature and cold rains are fruitful sources of troubles of the lungs, throat and chest. If you are attacked by a cold, no matter how slight, use at once

DR. SARGENT'S COUGH SYRUP,

Which is an old and well tried remedy for COUGHS, COLDS, ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS, and all Affections of the Pulmonary Organs.

DR SARGENT'S COUGH SYRUP

Is entirely free from any deleterious ingredient, and can be given with perfect safety to the youngest child.

DR. SARGENT'S COUGH SYRUP

Gives sure and almost immediate relief to hoarseness and that annoying sensation, tickling, in the throat. If you would obtain a reliable remedy, be sure and call for

DR. SARGENT'S COUGH SYRUP.

If your Druggist does not keep it, ask him to get it for you.

WE ARE NOT CAST IRON.

Cast Iron undergoes marked changes under the alternate action of heat and cold, and the human body is not cast iron. On the contrary, it is a combination of delicate tissues and fibres, which are exquisitely sensitive to atmospheric changes, and, unless protected against sudden and violent variations of temperature by wise precautions, are sure to be disastrously affected by them.

At this season the difference between the temperature of night and day is greater than at any other period of the year, and the stomach, the liver, the bowels and the nervous system are apt to receive violent shocks from these changes, resulting in indigestion, bilious attacks, debility, low nervous fever, fever and ague, remittent fever, &c. Sustain and reinforce these organs, therefore, with the purest and most potent of all vegetable tonics and alteratives, viz: HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. The effect of this matchless invigorant is to brace up the whole vital organization, and regulate its action. Useful at all seasons as a means of promoting perfect digestion, an even and natural flow of bile, and a healthy condition of the bowels and the skin, it is especially necessary in the Fall when the complaints arising from checked perspiration are so common. It is found, by those who are in the habit of using this agreeable and unequalled tonic, that it so strengthens and fortifies the body as to render it proof against the morbid influences which infect the air during the prevalence of epidemics.

DISEASED LUNGS.

There is no doubt whatever that diseases of the lungs, or ulcers of whatever sort, on any of the internal organs may be and are frequently cured, and a complete condition of health established. If the elaborative functions, of which the stomach is the primary and most important one, are restored to a condition to do the repairing of the human system, ulcers or sores, whether upon the lungs the liver, the kidneys or the bowels, or upon the legs, as is frequently the case, can be made to heal, and a complete standard of health re-established.

We have frequently seen these results from the use of Dr. KEYSER'S LUNG CURE, a pleasant and agreeable medicine, which will ripen up and carry out the animal economy all effete and used up material. DR. KEYSER'S LUNG CURE is enriched by some of the most valuable plants and herbs known to be useful and curative in all deteriorated states of the human blood, and whilst it adds to its plasma, it at the same time stimulates, gently but effectively, the skin, the kidneys, the liver and the glandular system to sufficient action to enable the body to take on healthful action and eradicate the disease. The sick and afflicted should bear in mind the virtues of this great medicine, and if those who are sufficiently alive to the importance of health, will resort to it in the beginning of a cough or cold, there would be no falling into declines and rapid consumption, so hopelessly incurable, and so most surely fatal. Let any one afflicted with any pulmonary disease try but one bottle, and they will be convinced of the value of Dr. Keyser's Lung Cure. Sold by the gross, dozen or single bottle, at Dr. KEYSER'S Great Medicine Store, 140 Wood St.

DR. KEYSER'S RESIDENCE AND OFFICE for LUNG OR PRIVATE CHRONIC DISEASES, 140 PENN STREET, PITTSBURGH, PA. Office hours from 9 A. M. UNTIL 4 P. M.

This Company, National in its character, offers, by reason of the Large Capital, Low Rates of Premium and New Tables, the most desirable means of insuring life yet presented to the public.
The rates of premium being largely reduced, are made as favorable to the insurers as those of the best Mutual Companies, and avoid all the complications and uncertainties of Notes, Dividends and the misunderstandings which the latter are so apt to cause the Policy-Holders.
Several new and attractive tables are now presented which need only to be understood to prove acceptable to the public, such as INCOME-PRODUCING POLICY and RETURN PREMIUM POLICY. In the former, the policy-holder not only secures a life insurance, payable at death, but will receive, if living, after a period of a few years, an annual income equal in ten per cent. (10 per cent.) of the par of his policy. The latter the Company agrees to return to the assured the total amount of money he has paid in, in addition to the amount of his policy.
The attention of persons contemplating insuring their lives or increasing the amount of insurance they already have, is called to the special advantages offered by the National Life Insurance Company.
Circulars, Pamphlets and full particulars given on application to the Branch Office of the Company in Philadelphia, or its General Agents.
☞ LOCAL AGENTS ARE WANTED in every City and Town; and applications from competent parties for such agencies with suitable endorsement, should be addressed TO THE COMPANY'S GENERAL AGENTS ONLY, in their respective districts.

large volume of loanable

week was not so much on account o litical causes as for the high rates of carry ing gold. The market was well manipulated by the holders of long gold; they first made gold scarce so it could not be sold short without paying an enormous interest of borrowing it, and when the squeeze was over and currency became scarce, they had not the means to buy it.

Governments are decidedly on the rise, and we should not be surprised to see an advance of 2 per cent. established during to-day and to-morrow, since everybody is convinced that a big rise must take place.

Stocks are strong and reflect on the easy condition of the money market.

—The "cerner" on corn has expired by "the statute of limitations." It did not end with the month of September, and was, in that respect, an exception to the rule governing corners. The whole affair was managed with consummate skill. The operators were able to control the movement of corn along the canal, making it exceptionally light, and so divided up their agencies among the brekers that no one could suspect any concerted action. It was only when the revelation was made on Wednesday morning last that a consultation had been held on the preceding evening, that the full plan was understood, and the victims saw how they had been ensnared.

The operations have been so well managed that it is difficult to ascertain, even now, the magnitude of the transactions. Including the 450,000 bushels called on buyer's option on Thursday the combination were probably creditors on differences aveighteen cents per bushel on 1,100,000 bushels, or about $200,000, to effect which they were obliged to keep control of 275,000 bushels of receipts at a net loss of $40,000, and to expend another $10,000 in commissions and for interest. The net profit would, therefore, have been about $150,000 if all the differences had been paid.—Chicago Tribune, 3d.

—The Chicago Tribune, of Friday, says: The culmination of the "corner" in corn to-day, as was intimated yesterday, has resulted in several small failures among the "short sellers." The affair, however, is not off the hands of those who originated it. They hold a large amount of corn which they must necessarily ship or sell before long.

Though this is by some announced a successful "corner," there is reason to believe that, as far as profit to the operator is concerned, it will not only prove a failure, but will finally result in a serious loss to those who brought it about. The demoralizing effect of this grain gambling on all legitimate trade has been often discussed, and is well known. The banks—who are always the most uncompromising in its denunciation—are, perhaps, as much to blame for aiding it, knowing that the capital loaned ts to be used in that way, as are the operators themselves.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
SATURDAY, October 3, 1868.

REVIEW FOR THE WEEK.

The market for Petroleum has again been considerably excited during the week which has closed, though the volume of business has been comparatively light. During the early part of the week, the market was rather weak and prices, particularly for spot (Refined) ruled lower; however, a stronger feeling has developed itself and prices have recovered. Considerable anxiety was manifested about delivery day (the first of the month) as it was thought some of the shorts would not be able to come up to the scratch; so far as we could earn, however, all the "calls" were promptly met, and right on the heels of this spot oil fell off fully half a cent, but as has already been intimated, the market soon reacted. OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
SATURDAY, October 3, 1868.

In this market there has been nothing of unusual importance transpired during the past week, and while there has been a fair volume of business in the aggregate, the transactions as a general thing, were mainly of a jobbing character, the demand being confined almost entirely to supplying the immediate wants of the home trade. In prices, there have been some few changes, but none of sufficient importance to deserve special mention.

APPLES—In good supply but with a steady demand prices are maintained, $3,00 to $4 per barrel.

POTATOES—Peach Blows dull and unchanged at 90 on track, and $1 in store. The market was completely glutted with Sweets, and prices dropped another half dollar per bbl, being offered freely at $5.

SEEDS—Flaxseed is in demand, and firm at $2,50. Timothy Seed is in good supply and dull being offered freely at $3,50. Clover Seed nominal.

BUTTER—Under the influence of increased receipts the market is somewhat easier, and while as yet prices are not quotably lower the tendency is downward. We continue to quote at 38 to 40c for choice packed, and 42 to 43c for choice roll.

EGGS—Scarce and in steady demand at 25c for fresh packed.

PROVISIONS—Bacon is in fair demand with sales reported at 13¼ to 13¾ for Shoulders; 15½ to 15¾c for Ribbed, and 17¾ to 18c for Clear Sides, and 20½ for Sugar Cured Hams. Prime kettle rendered Lard is scarce and firm at 21c. Mess Pork, $30,50 to $31.

LARD OIL—Firm but unchanged at $1,20 for No. 2, and $1,50 for No. 1.

CHEESE—Is steady but unchanged, at 17 to 20c, as to quality.

ONIONS—Firmer, and prices have advanced within a week to $4 to $5 per bbl, as to quality.

HAY—Prime to choice baled Hay is selling on arrival at $30 to $32. Wagon Hay is still quoted at $30 to $38, as to quality.

GRAIN—Wheat is quiet and unchanged; No. 1 Spring, $1,75 to $1,80, and No. 1 Winter, $2,05 to $2,10; we heard of a sale of prime Winter at $2,05. Oats steady but unchanged at 65 to 66c, on track and in elevator, and 68 to 70c, in store. Rye is still quoted at $1,40 buying, and $1,45 to $1,50 selling—the latter is an outside figure. Corn is steady but unchanged; sales in lots of some 600 bushels, on wharf, at $1,15 to $1,18. Barley is firm, with sales of prime Spring at $2.

MILL FEED—Dull and unchanged at $1,10 for Bran; $1,15 for Shorts; $1,30 for Shipstuffs, and $2 for Middlings.

FLOUR—The market is quiet and unchanged. Choice Spring Wheat brands are selling at $9,00 to $9,25. The mills continue to quote at $10,50 for Extra Family in bbls, and $10,20 in sacks; Double Extra at $11 in bbls, and $10,70 in sacks. Rye Flour, $8.75.

New York Dry Goods Market.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—Dry goods market quiet but steady. The probability is that Heavy Sheetings will advance before long, as goods are now selling below cost, viz: 15a15¼ for best Eastern, such as Pacific ex ra, Stark A, Appleton A and Atlantic A. Fine Brown Sheetings and Shirtings also depressed, but the stock is becoming much reduced. Great Falls S and Booth are selling at 12½, which is the lowest. Atlantic Shirtings are also selling at the low price of 12¼a12½. The Slaterville, 33 inch, Bleached Muslin are selling down to 12. Smithville job at 13½ by the piece and 12½ by the case, and the Bartlett job at 14½ by the package, and 15½ by the case. Prints steady at 7¼ for 64 square. Mouse Delaines of regular makes steady at 20. Spragues 19, but some outside lots of Lowell and other makes have been bought from second hands and selling by the case at 18. The styles, however, are not fresh. The Manchester Company have introduced some new printed styles, which are selling at 22.

Chicago Cattle Market.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CHICAGO, October 3.—Cattle market dull, with light demand by packers and city butchers; sales at 3a4c for Texas steers and fair cows; 6c for good smooth shipping steers. Hogs dull, and the demand is confined exclusively at to better grades; sales at $5,85a7,50 for stock pigs; $8,60a9,10 for fair to medium hogs, and $9,25a9,50 for good to choice smooth.

Cincinnati Cattle Market.

CINCINNATI, October 3.—Beef Cattle dull and unchanged at 3a6c. Hogs $7,00a9,75 by the gross.

SONG OF SUMMER NIGHT.

BY GEORGE M'DONALD.

The west is broken into bars
Of orange, gold and gray;
Gone is the sun, come are the stars,
And night infolds the day.

My boat glides down the gliding stream,
Whose flitting, glowing breast
Is lighted with one fading gleam,
The death-smile of the west.

The river flows; the sky is still:
It has no ceaseless quest;
Sad hearts and eyes may flow and fill
To think of such a rest.

The stream flows on. The skies repose.
All night the star-beams play.
In clouds and gleams the river flows,
The sky is clear always.

RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE.

The trial of Rev. J. P. Hubbard, of the Episcopal Diocese of Rhode Island, for a breach of the canon, "Of Persons not Ministers Officiating," re-opened on the 23d ult., and has not been concluded. Great courtesy and pleasant feeling exist between the two parties in the proceeding. The counsel on the two sides, presented an agreed statement of the facts, admitting the exchange of pulpits. This left only the argument on the law to be presented. The points of the presentors assume that the canon had reference to dissenting Ministers, and the duty of respecting the order of the Bishop of the Diocese. The counsel insisted on strict obedience being due from a Presbyter to his Diocesan, quoting from Ignatius and Origen the dictum, "Do nothing without the Bishop." The counsel for the respondent insisted that the canon in question, was intended to prevent impostors, and not the clergy of other denominations, from preaching, giving several instances in which such ministers have officiated in the English and American Churches. It was also contended that the Bishop's letter was not an actual prohibition; and, if it be so regarded, that a Bishop has no right "to direct a presbyter in a question of doctrine, worship, or conscience." Dr. J. C. Smith presented the argument on the doctrines of the Church supposed to be violated. These were; 1st, the exclusive validity of episcopal ordination; and 2d, the possession of peculiar sacerdotal powers by those who were thus ordained in the series of "an uninterrupted actual apostolic successor." These doctrines he urged were not in the standard of the Church, and Mr. Hubbard was under no obligation to believe them.

The Pittsburgh Synod of the Evangelical Lutheran Church met in Erie, Penna., on Wednesday. The Synod was called to order in the absence of the President by Rev. H. W. Roth, English Secretary. After the usual opening devotional exercises, the President's report was then read, and touching reference was made to the absent President, who was lying at death's door calmly waiting his departure to another world. His last words, in reference to the Synod were very effecting. The election of officers was then held and resulted as follows: Rev. G. A. Wentzell, D.D., of Pittsburgh, Pa., President; Rev. H. W. Roth, of Pittsburgh, English Secretary; Rev. C. F. Bochner, of Erie, Pa., German Secretary; Rev. W. F. Ullery, of Greensburg, Pa., Missionary President. The Synodical sermon was preached by Rev. S. Laird, of Pittsburgh, the evening of the first day's session. Thursday evening the Missionary Anniversary took place. Addresses were delivered by Rev. D. M. Kemerer and others. The Synod is still in session.

The American Christian Commission is organizing for a series of State Conventions similar to those which were held last Winter and Spring. Meetings are announced to be held for Illinois at Bloomington, on the twentieth of this month, and for Minnesota at Minneapolis, beginning December 1st.

A considerable number of Presbyteries have recently taken action on the question of the Plan of Union. The New School bodies are almost or quite unanimous in accepting the plan, while the Old School bodies are quite divided. It is not expected that the requisite three-fourths of the Presbyteries will accede to the exact terms of the Plan of Union. The Independent represents that those who object to it affirm their desire for union on the platform of the simple standards.

Rev. Mr. Rankin, of Charlestown, Massachusetts, argues in favor of two sermons rather than one for Sabbath, and then, from statistics of two hundred years, that longevity of ministers has been promoted, and that in New England ministers who preached two sermons on the Sabbath averaged sixty years.

Rev. Dr. Whedon, the able editor of the Methodist Quarterly Review, has in course of preparation a commentary on the book of Genesis. Its chief design is to harmonize the Mosaic record and recent scientific discoveries.

At a Methodist Camp-meeting held at Greenport, Long Island, Rev. S. H. Tyng, Jr., preached, and was followed with remarks by Rev. Mr. Duryea, Congregationalist, of Brooklyn. Mr. Tyng's sermon was characterized by simplicity, earnestness, telling anecdotes, and not a little of religious emotion. He spoke extemporaneously, and with fluency, for about fifty minutes, evoking hearty "Amens" from all parts of the assembly.

During the late session of the Kentucky Conference, (Southern Methodist Episcopal Church) at Frankfort, the capital of Kentucky, the following incident shows that "that the world moves." The pulpit of the African Methodist and African Baptist Churches were filled by these Southern preachers, who gave great satisfaction. An old negro woman went up to one of the officiating preachers and said: "When I gits happy I always shuts my eyes, and you talked so much like a nigger, I thought I was listening to a nigger preacher. Bress de Lord."

The Congregationalist states that the Congregational Church at Albert Lea, Minnesota, having received an offer of twenty-five hundred dollars from Rev. Dr. Paxton's church of New York to help build a meeting house on condition it would become Old School Presbyterian, has voted to accept.

The Wisconsin Lutheran Synod recently have formally and solemnly declared in favor of close communion and non-exchange of pulpits, as in accordance with the doctrine of that Church.

The Catholic Bishop of New Brunswick, Rev. Dr. Boyers, commends Christian fellowship between Catholics and Protestants in his diocese. He regards it as illustrating the true Christian spirit on the part of those who differ in their religious views, but are charitable and tolerant to all.

The American Christian Commission has issued a call for a National Christian Convention, to meet in the Reformed Protestant Dutch church, corner of Fifth avenue and Twenty-ninth street, New York, on Tuesday, November 7th, at 10 o'clock. Topics of general interest and pressing interest to the cause of Christianity in America, and the evangelization of the teeming millions of her population, will be discussed.

About forty years ago a positive old farmer, residing near Liberty, Montgomery county, Ohio, donated a lot to the Church in that place for a church building and grave yard, and determined to make the gift irrevocable and the purpose unchangable. He deeded the lot "To God Almighty, His Heirs and Assigns forever!" The deed is on record in Montgomery county, Ohio.

Bishop Simpson spent last Sabbath in this city, preaching in Christ M. E. Church in the morning, and in the afternoon he delivered an address on the Allegheny wharf, near the Suspension Bridge, for the Young Men's Christian Association. He was on his way to Kankakee, Illinois, where the Rock River Conference is holding its session, and had just come from Washington, D. C., where he had celebrated the marriage of Captain Robert Lincoln, eldest son of President Lincoln, with Miss Mary Harlan, only daughter of Senator Harlan, of Iowa.

To Paper Manufacturers.—We call your attention to an advertisement in to-day's paper inviting proposals for paper.

Work on the Federal street sewer, Allegheny, was slightly interrupted by the heavy rain storm on Friday evening.

Gave Bail.—Harry Price, tried and convicted a few days since of assault and battery, gave bail on Saturday for sentence.

Will Meet.—The Second Ward Pioneer Grant Club will meet to-night at Wilkins Hall. Important business will be transacted.

The Jackson Guards, Democratic, have adopted glass lamps with ribbon streamers instead of the old style for torchlight processions.

Larceny.—John Bonhers made information on Saturday before Justice Salisbury, of Birmingham, against Joseph Morris, for larceny. The accused was arrested and committed for trial.

The Seventh and Eighth Wards Night Schools will commence on Monday (this evening) at the Franklin street School House, under charge of Mr. D. C. Holmes and Miss Eliza J. Getty.

The Morlaechi Ballet Troupe which has been delighting our citizens, who like legend personations, for several nights past at the Opera House, left for Indianapolis on the Pan Handle road on the 2:25 P. M. train yesterday.

Surety.—Catharine Kald made information on Saturday, before Alderman Nicholson, against Charles Drich, for surety of the peace. Drich was arrested and committed for trial in default of three hundred dollars bail.

The Temperance men of Allegheny county are using all their efforts to elect Mr. Isaac Charles Commissioner. In our opinion, without personal disrespect to the men engaged in the movement, they will reap little from their labor.

The Committees from the different Grant Clubs in Allegheny City, appointed for the purpose of getting up a mammoth torchlight procession in that city, will meet this evening, at the Club Room of the Fourth ward, Sandusky street.

Funeral.—The funeral of Lorren Hurd, the engineer who was killed by the locomotive explosion at Covert's station, on the Lawrence railroad, Thursday last, took place on Saturday afternoon from his late residence on Sedgwick street, Allegheny.

The meeting for suggesting names for the various city and ward offices of the Fourth ward, held on Saturday evening, did not complete the business for which it was convened, and Wednesday evening next was designated for the next meeting.

The Regular Weekly Meeting of the Seventh and Eighth Wards Grant and Colfax Club will be held this evening, and it is desirable that every member should be present, as business of importance will be brought up for the consideration of the Club.

Foot Race.—A foot race took place in Union Park, Saturday afternoon, between Wm. Smith and Wm. Kendrick. The distance was seventy yards, the stakes $200, the time made six and one-half seconds, ending in a draw, according to the referee's decision.

Meets To-Night.—The committees appointed by the various Grant Clubs, with reference to the proposed torchlight procession in Allegheny, will meet this evening at headquarters of the Fourth Ward Club, corner Sandusky and Leacock streets, at half-past seven o'clock.

Home.—The Second Ward Pioneer Grant Club, the Central Tanners Club and many of the Boys in Blue who participated in the recent demonstration in Philadelphia have got home. They universally express themselves as highly pleased with their trip, and the reception received in Philadelphia.

A New Cross—There is some talk of erecting a cross on the top of the new spire of the Cathedral, and arranging around its outer edge gas jets which can be lighted up at night with an electrical apparatus. The idea is a novel one, and would doubtless prove an attractive one in church architecture.

Going it Blind.—A blind horse attached to a coal wagon ran off down Fifth avenue, on Saturday afternoon. Just in front of the Chronicle office the runaway came in contact with a two horse carriage, in which was seated two young ladies. The carriage was badly broken, and the ladies frightened considerably, but beyond this no damage was done.

Burgettstown Fair.—The above Fair comes off on Tuesday and Wednesday next, October 6th and 7th, and promises to be one of the best ever held at that place. A match game of base ball will be played in the afternoon of the first day (Tuesday) between the Merchants Club of Pittsburgh and the Fearless of Paris. The Panhandle Railroad have agreed to issue excursion tickets at all the stations from Pittsburgh to Steubenville. dw

En Route.—The dashing General Kilpatrick, of cavalry fame, arrived in this city, from Philadelphia, yesterday morning, dined at the Union Depot Hotel, and left the city for Toledo on the westward train. He is reported to have done great service during the proceedings of the grand Soldiers and Sailors Convention in Philadelphia last week, making no less than five speeches in one day. He has the ring of true metal.

Almost a Row.—The Dennys of the old Third ward, now the Fifth, met at Duffy's, or the Battery, if you please, on Saturday evening, for the purpose of suggesting suitable persons to represent them in the forthcoming elections, but the warlike proclivities of a number of those present prevented a fair expression of opinion. In other words, the meeting was saved breaking up in a row by the timely adjournment of the conclave before blows were struck.

The Young Apostle of Greenbacks for Bonds, Hon. George H. Pendleton, of Ohio, arrived in the city late Saturday night. He was escorted to the St. Charles Hotel by the Democratic Jackson Association.

The Procession To-day.—The Democrats hold their Mass Convention to-day, and will parade the streets. We trust that there will be no Republicans found guilty of interfering with the opposition or offering any indignity whatever.

Corner Stone Laid.—The corner stone of St. Joseph's Catholic Church, Monastry Hill, Birmingham, was laid yesterday afternoon with appropriate ceremonies. Right Rev. Rev. Bishop Domenec officiated and preached an able and eloquent sermon. Several Catholic societies were in attendance from the city, accompanied by a brass band and marshaled by our esteemed fellow citizen Dr. Geo. H. Keyser.

On Monday Next.—R. Stockett Matthews is announced to speak in the City Hall on Monday evening, October 12th. This intelligence will be appreciated, inasmuch as considerable disappointment was experienced because of the failure of that gentleman to fulfill an engagement at the Diamond in Allegheny, on Saturday evening last, owing to the illness of his wife. There is no doubt of his being present, and we can safely predict a large meeting of citizens present to greet him.

Remains Found.—The remains of Alexander Mars, late Captain of the steamer Baltic, notice of whose death from accidental drowning has already been published, were fished up on Friday last in the Ohio river, a short distance below Cincinnati. They were in such a decomposed condition as to defy all efforts at identification, the pants alone serving to effect that object. His friends brought them to his late residence in Baden, Beaver county, where they were buried on Saturday last.

Probable Fatal Accident.—A man, whose name we were unable to learn, while in an intoxicated condition, on Sabbath afternoon, fell over the bridge crossing Chartiers Creek, about two miles from the city, receiving injuries which will doubtless prove fatal. He was conveyed to Mercy Hospital. He complains of his back and neck. The physician in attendance pronounces him in a very critical condition, and expresses the opinion that he will not survive many hours. A bottle containing whisky was found near where he fell.

Opera House.—The attractions at this place of amusement for the week are of a more solid character than those of the week just closed. The services of Mr. Mark Smith, the distinguished comedian, have been secured, and that gentleman appears this evening as Sir Peter in the "School for Scandal." Mr. Smith has a national reputation as a first-class actor, and we have no doubt the rendition of the part he assumes will be highly acceptable. The Stock Company is excellent, and the play all through will be produced in good style.

Defective Commitment.—George Bishop, committed a few days ago by Alderman Irwin, of the Twelfth (old Ninth) ward, on a charge of larceny by bailee, was released on the ground of a very trifling defect in the commitment, viz: the constable is charged to deliver the body of George Bishop to the keeper of the Indiana county jail, instead of the warden of the jail of this county. The very trifling omission of the name of the prosecutor adds to the defective character of the commitment. The attorney for Bishop presented the commitment to Court on Saturday last, and asked the release of his client, which was ordered by Judge Sterrett.

In Friday's paper we published an account of a confidence game practiced on Mr. Samuel Sawyer. Our reporter made more of the circumstance than he would have done had he known the high position and standing of Rev. Samuel Sawyer, who was made to figure so largely in it. The gentleman's confidence was in large measure abused by the man who borrowed the money from him, but he made the loan in charity and does not feel that he was guilty of any great lack of discretion in even helping a bad man in distress. We are very sorry that the article found its way into our columns, believing that it furnished the particulars of an affair which should have been private.

In a Paneful Spirit.

Jerry Driscoll, who keeps a tavern at 21 Webster street, had his door forced open, several panes in the door sash and also in the window sash broken, early on Sunday morning, by John M'Carthy. John was refused admission and resorted to violence to accomplish that which he failed to effect by gentle coaxing and persuasion. Driscoll preferred a charge of malicious mischief against M'Carthy before Mayor Blackmore, who issued a warrant for the boisterous John. He has not yet been arrested.

Death of an Old River Pilot.

Mr. James H. Jones, a well-known citizen and pilot on these rivers, died very suddenly at his residence in Birmingham, on Friday, from apoplexy. While on duty at his post in the pilot house, on Thursday, he was overcome by a peculiar sensation, and almost unconsciously he pulled the bell rope, stopping the engine. The parties below not knowing the cause of detention, hurried up and fouud the unfortunate man partially unconscious, one side of his body being entirely paralyzed. He was taken to his residence, and on Friday had another attack, which resulted fatally. The deceased was well known, particularly among river men, and his death will occasion considerable regret. He was buried yesterday afternoon, a large concourse of persons following his remains to their last resting place.

The Allegheny Horse Thieves.

We have already referred to the arrest of a man named Edward Nau, charged with stealing a horse belonging to Mr. J. G. Smith, from his pasture field, on Wednesday night last. From information communicated by Nau to officer Bowden, it was ascertained that two other parties, named Mail and Shively, were concerned in the theft. The officers succeeded in arresting Mail late on Saturday night, and learned from him that the stolen horse had been sold to a man named Niel Diamond, receiving another horse and a cow in exchange therefor. The animal of Mr. Smith has been recovered, as is also the horse and cow of Mr. Diamond. Mail and Nau are both in durance in the Allegheny lock-up, and will have a hearing before His Honor, Mayor Drum, this morning. Shively is still at large, but will doubtless be arrested.

What is Proposed.

Our sister city Republicans have entered upon the work determinedly to have a grand closing demonstration prior to the October election. With a view of creating a rivalry among the different clubs, a costly silk flag is to be presented to the largest equipped organization, participating in the demonstration, all clubs from any quarter of the country being privileged and invited to compete. The flag is being gotten up by the ladies of Allegheny, who never do things by halves, and the success of the affair is only a matter of time. It has been further suggested, if practicable, to have the procession some time this week, in order that the formal presentation of the flag to the banner club can take place at the Rink, on Monday evening, and be the occasion of a general jollification, at which the Republican ladies could be present. The programme is not well defined, but the presumption is, as we have stated, that instead of one there will be two demonstrations.

ELECTION FRAUDS.

Colonizing Voters in Westmoreland—Charge of Conspiracy Against E. J. Keenan, Esq., Deputy Chairman Democratic State Central Committee, and Others.

The developments concerning alleged attempts to "colonize" voters in Westmoreland county, in the Twenty-first Congressional District, has led to the prosecution of Edward J. Keenan, Esq., Deputy Chairman of the Democratic State Ceatral Committee, John Guffy, John George and Robert Black, for for conspiracy. The information was made by Hon. John Covode, the Republican candidate for Congress in the Twenty-first District, on Saturday, and the defendants held to bail in the sum of one thousand dollars for their appearance on Wednesday next for a hearing.

Following is the information made by Mr. Covode:

STATE OF PENNSYLVANIA, COUNTY OF ALLEGHENY SS:

Commonwealth vs. Edward J. Keenan, John Guffy, John George, Bebert Black and others.

On the 3d day of October, 1868, before me an Alderman in and for the city of Pittsburgh, and ex-officio Justice of the Peace in and for said county, personally came John Covode, who being first duly sworn, deposeth and saith that on the 29th day of September, 1868, at Pittsburgh in the county aforesaid, a certain Edward J. Keenan, John Guffy, John George, Robert Black and others to this deponent as yet unknown, did unlawfully, fraudulently and maliciously conspire and agree to cause and procure a large number of persons whose names are to this deponent unknown to be taken to divers places in the county of Westmoreland, in the State aforesaid, and to cause and procure such persons so taken to said county to vote at the State election to be held on the second Tuesday of October, 1868, such persons so procured to be taken to said Westmoreland county not being legal voters in said county, and said Edward J. Keenan and others well knowing that said persons were not legal voters in said county.

And deponent further saith that in pursuance of said conspiracy the said Edward J. Keenan and others did, on the day and year aforesaid, and at divers times since, at the county of Allegheny aforesaid, cause and procure a large number of persons to be taken to Westmoreland county to vote at said State election, such persons not being legal voters in said Westmoreland county, and the said Edward J. Keenan and others, well knowing that such persons were not legal voters in said Westmoreland county.

Deponent, therefore, desires that a warrant may issue and that the said Edward J. Keenan and others may be arrested and held to answer a charge of conspiracy to cause and procure persons to vote fraudulently at the State election in Westmoreland county, and for causing and procuring persons to be taken to said Westmoreland county to vote fraudulently at said State election. JOHN COVODE.

Sworn to and subscribed before me this 3d day of October, 1868.

A. S. NICHOLSON, Alderman.

Testimonial to a Worthy Gentleman.

Quite a pleasant affair came off a few evenings since at the Locomotive Works, Beaver avenue, Allegheny (formerly Manchester), in the office of the Engineer and Superintendent, Mr. Thatcher Perkins.

This gentleman having resigned his position, to take effect September 30th, in order to accept a responsible position on a Southern road, upon the evening in question, when making his usual evening visit to the works, was completely surprised to find his office occupied by about thirty of the employes awaiting him in perfect silence.

Mr. Robert Weaver arose and in a very appropriate speech presented Mr. Perkins with a set of amethyst sleeve buttons, each button having twelve diamonds, and an elegant amethyst finger ring, which for elegance of design and beauty are unsurpassed in the city and do great credit to the good taste and liberality of the donors. Mr. Perkins received them in a neat and appropriate speech, thanking them for their unexpected mark of esteem shown him as he was comparatively but a stranger to all of them. His departure is sincerely regretted by all the workmen and he carries with him the respect of every good mechanic in his employ.

Mr. Perkins came to Pittsburgh some three years ago. Designing and superintending the building of the Locomotive Works, a work alone which does him great credit, as for arrangement of machinery and adaptation of the entire works for the purpose intended they are acknowledged to be unrivalled in this country. During the eighteen or twenty months the works have been in operation there have been turned out twenty-eight new locomotives and two more or nearly finished, besides remodeling four, some of which were almost entirely new. In addition there has been a large amount of jobbing work done. The reputation of the "Perkins" engines is so well known to the public that it is useless for us to say that they have always given entire satisfaction. We hope the change may be a pleasant one for him, and that his success may be as great in the future as it has been in the past.

Republican Rallies.

On Saturday evening last, a very large and spirited Republican meeting was held at John O'Neill's Coal Works, Pine Run, Jefferson township. There were fully five hundred present, and altogether the meeting was one of the largest and most enthusiastic ever held in that township. Able and argumentative addresses were made by our fellow townsmen, James W. Murray and Thomas Howard, Esq. A delegation of one hundred Tanners from Elizabeth accompanied by an excellent martial band, were in attendance, coming in a steamboat especially chartered for the occasion. A glee club sung several patriotic airs, after which the meeting adjourned with three cheers for Grant and Colfax.

At Braddock's Fields a large Republican meeting was held at the same time, and was addressed by Hon. John M. Kirkpatrick and C. W. Robb, Esq.

At Sharpsburg on Saturday afternoon and evening very fine meetings were held, the Republicans turning out in their might. The speakers announced were Messrs. Hampton, Miller, Pollock, Robb and Brown

Burglary on Liberty Street.

The bakery of John Sheppard, No. 317 Liberty street, was entered on Saturday night by burglars, who obtained little or no booty, however, for their trouble. Entrance was effected through the bake-house in the rear to the cellar, and up the trap-door into the hall, up the stair-way to the second story, and down the rope into the store room. The drawers were pretty well ransacked and about two dollars in currency obtained as the reward of their trouble. An attempt was made to force the safe by means of a hatchet, but the operators were frightened off before their object was effected.

Large Meeting at Hazelwood.

There was a large and enthusiastic Republican rally at Hazelwood Station, on the Connellsville road, on Saturday evening. Speeches were made by Hon. J. K. Moorhead, Hon. George Wilson, and Colonel Daniel L. Eaton, of Washington, D. C., all of which were appreciated. The Fourth Ward, Allegheny, "Minute Men," numbering over two hundred, in charge of Captain A. P. Callow, were in attendance by special invitation. The proceedings were protracted until a late hour, and much enthusiasm prevailed.

RAILROAD COLLISION.

Collision on the Panhandle Railroad--A Conductor Killed--Locomotive and Cars Demolished.

A terrible railroad collision occurred on Friday evening about half-past nine o'clock, on the Panhandle Railroad at New Market Station, Ohio, one hundred miles west of this city. It seems that the express train, consisting of two passenger and two sleeping coaches, and one baggage and one express car, left the Union Depot at 2:35 P. M., under charge of Conductor P. K. Benner, the train being well filled with passengers and arriving on time at New Market. By orders the train was to lay over at New Market until 9:38 P. M. At the expiration of that time, it started on its way, and had proceeded about a mile west of the station when the Eastward bound freight train came around the curve at the usual rate of speed. Both engineers immediately reversed their engines, whistled down brakes, and then jumped off, the distance intervening between the trains being too short to prevent the collision. The engines came together with terrible force, completely wrecking them and crushing several of the cars. The baggage and express cars were considerably smashed, while the passenger cars shared the same fate. The first sleeping coach was also crushed and broken, one of the passenger coaches having been forced through it, a distance of nearly four feet in the forward end.

Just previous to the collision, conductor Benner had gone into the forward sleeping coach, and when the engine whistled "down brakes," he ran out on the platform and was in the act of setting the brake when the collision occurred. He was discovered afterwards with his body partially forced through a window, both his legs caught between the platforms, and terribly crushed, and the whole body, so tightly wedged in by the surrounding timbers and iron rods as to consume nearly an hour in extricating it from the net work. As soon as he was taken out, he was conveyed to a neighbor's house, and medical aid summoned. Though terribly mangled, it was thought at first sight that he would survive the injuries, but all hopes in this direction proved delusive, death ensuing on Saturday morning at eight o'clock, consciousness remaining until the last. The deceased was one of the oldest conductors on the road, was a resident of Steubenville, and leaves a wife and family.

None of the passengers on the train were injured, although both passenger and sleeping coaches were well filled, all one of them, more or less being damaged, with the exception of that in the rear.

The engines were completely wrecked, and jammed together in such a manner as to be undistinguishable. The freight train which was filled with stock also suffered considerably, three of the cars containing hogs and cattle being demolished, and between thirty and forty hogs and several head of cattle killed.

The cause of the collision is not at present writing known, but an investigation of the affair has been ordered.

THE COURTS.

Court of Quarter Sessions.

[Before Judge Sterrett.]

The business in this Court on Saturday morning, was generally of an unimportant character. We note the following: Thos. McCaffrey, confined in jail for several weeks, for surety, on complaint of his wife, was discharged on payment of costs.

A motion for a new trial was made in the case of officer Rahbb, who was convicted of brutally assaulting Mrs. Dr. Dake. The motion takes its place on the argument list.

George Stackener, who plead guilty on Friday afternoon last, to three charges of selling liquor without license, was sentenced to pay a fine of fifty dollars and costs, on one indictment, His Honor Judge Sterrett remarking that he would reserve sentencing him on the other two charges until a future period.

Judge Mellon announced that the cases on the trial list as published in the city papers on Saturday would be taken up on Monday in their order. The Court then adjourned.

Common Pleas.

[Before Judges Sterrett and Mellon.]

The principal business transacted in this Court on Saturday was presented by Mr. Shaffer, being a petition from a large number of the residents of Elizabeth township, asking for a sub-division of the township into two election precincts. It is alleged by the petitioners that they labor under great inconvenience, by reason of the distance from their residences of the places of holding elections; and it is further alleged that the proposed precincts will separately contain more than one hundred duly qualified voters. The Court ordered the filing of the petition and granted a rule to show cause why the division of said township into election precincts should not be made. The rule was made returnable Saturday, October 10th, 1868, at ten o'clock.

Sale of the Pittsburgh Theatre.

Under the hammer of the popular and experienced auctioneer, Captain Harry Smithson, of the Masonic Hall auction ware-rooms, the Pittsburgh Theatre, better known as the "old Drury," on Fifth street, was sold on Saturday to Mr. William Carr, a wealthy liquor merchant, for $90,000.

The property comprised in the sale consisted of the building and lot, the latter sixty feet front by one hundred and fifty deep. The terms of the sale were one-third cash, and the remainder in two equal annual payments with interest. The sale was for the benefit of the heirs of the Simpson estate, and was conducted under the direction of General William Hoffman and Benjamin Rush, executors of Louisa Simpson, deceased. The scenery, fixtures and properties of the theatre were not included in the sale, they being the personal property of Mr. William Henderson. Messrs. Henry Kleber, Sands & Reineman, Mat. Canning (of the Opera House,) and Mr. Carr were the only bidders. The first bid was $40,000, and the one preceding the last was $89,950, by Mr. Kleber. Mr. Carr, we believe, intends tearing down the old theatre, which was erected thirty-five years ago, and erecting on the site a business building. The Democrats will retain it as headquarters till Grant is elected President. Four years ago the theatre property was offered at $40,000.

Ward Nominations.

The following ticket was placed in nomination on Saturday evening, by the Republican voters of the Fifth (old Third ward), to be supported in the ensuing election:

Select Council—Henry Freese and Dr. W. J. Gilmore.
Common Council—W. J. White, Joseph Hastings and Nicholas Schwartz.
Judge of Election—George Glass.
Inspector—Andrew J. Kemp.
Return Inspector—Maj. R. H. Long.
School Directors—Joseph Able and Dr. W. A. Halleck.
Assessor—Robert J. Smith.
Constable—J. R. Larimer.

At a meeting of the Republicans of the Sixth (old Eighth ward), on Saturday evening last, the names of the following persons were suggested for nomination for the various city and ward offices:

Select Council—Henry E. White, Samuel Morrow and J. M. Robitzer.
Common Council—Frank P. Case, Joseph Caskey, Richard W. Roberts, Henry Meyer, David Hutchinson, Tom. T. Ewen, Barclay Preston and Dan'l D. Evans.
Judge of Election—Foster Alward, A. J. Moon and James Ewing.
Constable—Robert Fowler, and Seth Wilmot.
School Directors—John L. Hamilton, I. A. Willis, Hugh McMasters, George W. Dithridge, J. B. Bennett, John R. Wilson and Henry Wagstaff.
Inspector of Election—Robert Fowler, D. J. Neill and Solomon Jones.
Return Inspector—N. T. Kunkle, John Wrightley, Geo. Linderman and George Beecher.
Assessor—G. W. Gray, Sr., and H. J. Thomas.

In the Thirteenth Ward, on Saturday, the Republicans nominated Messrs. Richard Herron and E. P. Jones for Select, and Messrs. Gildenfenny and Walker for Common Council. The two former gentlemen are at present members of that body, and their nomination is evidence that they have faithfully served their constituents and merited their endorsemont. The two latter will be new members, but are representative citizens of the ward.

Republican Meeting in Findley Township.

A large and enthusiastic meeting of the Republicans of North Fayette and Findley townships was held at McHenry's mill, on Wednesday evening, Sept. 30th. Not only did the voters turn out in their might, but the ladies were there in large numbers to cheer and encourage with their smiles. We noticed several Democrats amongst the audience, who listened attentively to the telling remarks of the speakers. It is a well known fact that there are many wavering Democrats in this neighborhood, and as the speeches were bold, strong and convincing, it is thought the Democrats who were present will come out and join in the glorious fight for Grant and Colfax.

The meeting was addressed by Thomas Ewing and Jacob H. Miller, Esqs., both of whom made able and elegant speeches. They spoke on the different issues of the campaign and were often loudly applauded.

The chairman, Mr. Robert McLaren, at the close thanked the audience for their good order and close attention, after which the meeting adjourned with three thundering cheers for Grant and Colfax.

The people of North Fayette and Findley townships are fully aroused, their enthusiasm is unbounded, and they are working with a determination to roll up a heavy vote for Grant, Colfax and the entire Republican ticket.

In this connection it might be mentioned that there will be a grand mass Convention at Clinton, on Thursday, Oct. 8th. Large delegations will be present from the surrounding townships and from Beaver and Washington counties.

15 to 25 Per Cent.

The immense stock of hats, caps and ladies furs, at the great first class establishment of William Fleming, has been selected with the greatest care from the leading manufacturer's of the country, and a great portion of it made to order for the exclusive trade of this popular and extensive House. It is of the best material, made in all the newest styles, and has been marked down to but a slight advance on the manufacturers cost. The business of this house has, from long experience, been so systematized that all purchasers save from fifteen to twenty-five per cent. upon their bills. The attention of the ladies is directed particularly to the extensive stock of plain and fancy furs, consisting in part of Hudson Bay Sable, Mink Sable, Siberian Squirrel, German Fitch, French and German Sables, all made in the latest styles of Bads, Eugenias, Collars, Berthas, Guy's excelsior patent and ordinary muffs. Those who buy early, in addition to securing the very best selection, will also buy at much less prices than if they delay later in the season.

Country merchants who consult their own interests will not fail to call at Fleming's and examine the finely assorted and complete stock presented in the wholesale departments. They not only secure splendid variety and selection, but likewise obtain in purchasing by case or dozen as low prices as prevail in New York and Philadelphia. Let none forget the place, William Fleming's wholesale and retail hat, cap and fur establishment, sign of the great golden hat, No. 139 Wood street.

Meeting in Allegheny—Speeches of Messrs. Purviance and Young.

According to published call the Republicans of the Fifth and Sixth wards, Allegheny, assembled in large numbers on Friday evening, at their headquarters, corner of Beaver avenue and Locust streets. Owing to the pouring rain, however, it was found impossible to hold an out-door meeting, and accordingly the assemblage adjourned to Henry's Hall, on Washington street, where a meeting was organized with the following officers:

President—George W. Reynolds.
Vice Presidents—W. C. Cooke, H. B. Campbell, Andrew McCord.
Secretaries—S. S. D. Thompson, Clarence Parker, and Reporters of the Republican press.

The first speaker introduced was General John N. Purviance, who made a stirring address of considerable length, which is published on one of our inside pages to-day.

Capt. John Young, Jr., followed Gen. Purviance in an effective speech, and at a late hour the meeting adjourned with three cheers for Grant and Colfax.

Flag Presentation.

The Republican ladies of the Second ward, Allegheny, formally presented the Grant and Colfax club of that ward with a magnificent silk flag on Saturday evening. The club was out in full force and paraded through several of the streets, presenting really a handsome appearance. The style of equipment is bronze colored cap and cape, with musket torches. The club is commanded by Captain John Barker.

The Second Ward Junior Republicans, composed of boys ranging from ten to fifteen years, and numbering about ninety, followed in the rear. The boys were drawing a miniature hook and ladder truck, and wore white shirts, red sashes and carried torches. One of the novelties of the junior club is the band, composed of their own members. The two clubs is a fair representation of the Republican material of that ward, and the demonstration was a complete success.

Minersville Passenger Railway.—The citizens residing along the line of the above road, and those interested in the successful operation of the same, are requested to attend an adjourned meeting at the Minersville School House on this (Monday) evening, Oct. 5th, at 7½ o'clock.

A. G. MCCANDLESS, Chairman.

Rupture of the Bowels.

There is no more serious disturbance to human health, or danger to human life, than that of hernia or rupture; and we are continually seeing in the newspapers reports of cases which have terminated fatally, and which need not be so if timely attention were given to its earlier symptoms. There need be no danger from rupture, or falling of the bowels, if the first appearance were given heed to. Every afflicted man knows this as well as we do, and as guardians in a measure of what usually contributes to the general health or the welfare of the community, we take pleasure in directing attention to an establishment where all such ills are properly and scientifically cared for. We do this as much out of a consideration for the public good as we do for the benefit of the gentleman to whom we refer, and we know full well that there are thousands of sufferers throughout the country who will kindly thank us for our information. The establishment of Dr. KEYSER, AT 140 WOOD STREET, AND THE CONSULTATION ROOMS OF THAT GENTLEMAN AT 120 PENN STREET, are provided with every appliance appropriate for hernia, as well as for other ailments requiring mechanical remedies. The Doctor has for many years past given almost exclusive attention to the treatment of chronic diseases of an obstinate character, and has established for himself a fame and reputation worthy of the great labor he has bestowed upon the subject. At the time Dr. Keyser established his office for the treatment of chronic diseases, there seemed to be a great need for such an institution, and his many published and still more unpublished cures, are abundant evidence of the good he is doing in behalf of a class of sufferers, whose ailments they were taught to believe were irremediable and without hope.

Dr. KEYSER'S RESIDENT OFFICE FOR LUNG EXAMINATIONS AND THE TREATMENT OF OBSTINATE CHRONIC DISEASES, No. 120 PENN STREET, PITTSBURGH, PA. Office hours from 9 A. M. until 4 P. M.

Persons who possess rare taste in harmonizing colors and selecting suitable designs for public or private dwellings have now an opportunity of gratifying themselves, while conferring a benefit upon the community. Page, Zellers & Duff, No. 8 Wood street, are prepared to fill the largest orders, for any specified style, color or design of stained and enameled glass in a fraction of the time heretofore occupied by the glass stainers.

The price paid for a handsome gold glass sign would almost pay for a beautiful stained or enameled sheet of glass of the same size, with the same amount of lettering. The one washes or wears off in two or three years, sometimes in a year; the other lasts for ages.

Page, Zellers & Duff, 8 Wood street, make durable transoms, side lights of all sizes, colors and designs, handsomely lettered and numbered.
